Bitter Credentials Showdown on Tap

Rulings Bolster McGovern Hopes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—his political rivals on the Credentials Committee. That could lift him to within 50 votes of a first-ballot triumph Wednesday night, according to The Associated Press tally of delegate strength. And such a decision might set off a rush by uncommitted delegates to get on what then would look like a winning bandwagon.

Backers of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, leading the fight to maintain the Credentials Committee decision that divided the 151 California votes among McGovern's rivals in the state's June 6 primary, were a bit more cautious in discussing the floor fight that will highlight tonight's possibly marathon session.

"I think the chances are fair to good we will be seated," said state Sen. Mervyn Dymally of Los Angeles, a Humphrey leader.

Some aides saw the division of the delegation as the only possible way to revive his faded nomination hopes, while a number of his backers were reported leaning to support of the McGovern position.

Supporters of George C. Wallace generally backed Humphrey's side. The crippled Alabama governor told Tennessee backers he expects to "play a large part" in the convention.

An array of 23 credentials challenges from 15 states is expected to keep tonight's kickoff convention session, scheduled to open at 7:30 p.m. EDT, going through much of the night.

Besides the California dispute, the most important is the appeal by Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley from the Credentials Committee decision to replace him and 58 allies with a competing group dominated by McGovern backers.

Other important credentials cases come from Alabama and Georgia.

The bitterness surrounding the California dispute erupted Sunday in a meeting of the convention's Rules Committee. McGovern supporters accused Humphrey backers of a power play to rewrite rules on the number of votes needed to sustain credentials challenges.

But as the opening day of the convention dawned, the main subject was George Stanley McGovern, and whether he could be stopped from the presidential nomination that seemed so remote just a few months ago.

The numbers showed him far ahead. With the California votes divided as directed by the Credentials Committee, the AP count showed:

McGovern 1,322.65; Humphrey 512.05; Wallace 388; Muskie 235.55; uncommitted 385.15.

That left McGovern 186.35 short of the 1,509 majority and meant that victory for the disputed 151 California votes could draw him within 35.35 of victory.

Muskie Stays in Running

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie refused again today to drop out of the Democratic presidential scramble.

He urged his rivals for the nomination to hold an unprecedented meeting to settle the disruptive credentials question before it reaches the convention floor tonight.

Without such a council beforehand, Muskie warned, the credentials challenges from California and Illinois could result in a political battle with a "horrendous" toll in political dead and wounded "and our party and its nominee could be among the casualties."

delegation, said McGovern would give "serious consideration" to Muskie's proposal.

But the McGovern spokesman insisted there would "be no compromise on California."

Muskie did not reveal how he stood personally—or how he thought his delegates, estimated by him to total 200 to 300, should vote—on the California reading his statement that he would "be a candidate until this convention is ended."

In the statement, he said the credentials question had been turned into something much larger than itself, being fought out by "two armed camps."

Muskie suggested in telegrams to the other candidates that they meet with Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien this afternoon. Muskie said he had some "specific recommendations designed to resolve these disputes in a manner which does not finally determine the nomination."

McGovern invaded the camps of his rivals, including the Ohio delegation where he won a standing ovation even though a

Quang Tri Proving Tough to Take

SAIGON (UPI)—A 1,000-man South Vietnamese task force that moved into battered Quang Tri city last week withdrew to the edge of town today and allied officers said they expect a major fight before recapturing the provincial capital from the Communists.

The South Vietnamese said last Friday that government troops had occupied two-thirds of the city and the only major obstacle was the capture of the walled, 19th century citadel near the center of the city. However, allied officers said today the North Vietnamese defenders have received reinforcements and are prepared to fight for the city.

"Quang Tri is going to be very hard to take. The bunker complexes are unbelievable," a U.S. adviser told UPI correspondent Barney Seibert. "They are determined to hold Quang Tri. There is at least a battalion (about 500 men) in there."

Far to the south, U. S. Brig. Gen. Richard J. Tallman and three other Americans were killed by a North Vietnamese artillery shell near An Loc, a provincial capital 60 miles north of Saigon that has been under siege since soon after the current Communist offensive started on March 30. Two other Americans were injured.

Tallman, 47, of Honesdale, Pa., and his party had just stepped out of their helicopter when a shell hit nearby. They jumped into a bunker, then climbed out again and were running for a command post 100 yards away when a second shell exploded in their midst.

President Nguyen Van Thieu landed in the same spot two days ago during an inspection tour but no artillery shells came within 400 yards of the Thieu party.

Tallman was deputy commander of the 3rd Regional Assistance Command operating in the An Loc area. He was the father of seven children and had been stationed in Vietnam for one year.

At least nine U. S. generals, one admiral and five South Vietnamese generals have been killed in the Vietnam war. Three communist MIG-21 jets were downed near Hanoi Saturday in dogfights with U. S. Air Force F4 Phantom jet fighters, bombers, of the U. S. command said Sunday.

One of the MIGs was shot down by an air-to-air missile from a plane crewed by Capt. Richard F. Hardy, 28, of Chicago, and his backseat man, Capt. Paul T. Lewinski, 26, of Schenectady.

U. S. Navy officials said an American destroyer sank three barges Sunday that were unloading a Chinese freighter off the coast of North Vietnam. The freighter was not fired upon. The 7th Fleet said the incident occurred 33 miles northeast of Dong Hoi.

Elsewhere over the North, U. S. fighter bombers knocked out 28 water supply craft. American planes flew more than 300 sorties over the north in the period ending at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Fierce fighting was reported on the outskirts of Quang Tri city earlier in the day but no casualty reports were released.

American advisers, however, said the Communists are well dug in in Quang Tri and are expected to put up a fight. South Vietnamese reconnaissance patrols were still inside

$7,000 Burglary Loot In Six City Break-Ins

By WALTER S. CLARK

KINGSTON
Burglaries in Kingston over the weekend netted merchandise, jewelry and cash estimated to value more than $7,000, according to police reports. Two house burglaries and four break-ins at business places were under investigation by detectives.

The residence of Albert Mitchell, 338 South Wall Street, was entered through a rear kitchen window after a screen was pushed open. The house was ransacked, according to detectives. The burglary was reported Saturday.

Investigation disclosed that loot taken by the thief, or thieves, consisted of approximately $1,400 in currency and change, 20 silver certificates, bank books, a deed to the Mitchell property, discharge papers, three antique stickpins, a gold ring and two wrist watches along with other items. The total value, police reported was $2,485.

Another burglary was reported at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Rice at 24 Hillsworth Avenue, this city. The break-in was discovered Saturday morning, when the Rices returned from a camping trip, police said.

According to detectives the house was entered by cutting a screen door on the rear of the residence and then smashing a hole near the lock of the inside door. Missing, according to investigators, were a radio, tape recorder, tape deck, a phonograph combination with 30 to 35 tapes and a ladies watch with two diamonds. The total value was estimated at $380.

Police said a green pillow case was missing and they theorized that it was used to cart away the loot.

The Remus Confectionary building at 55 Furnace street was burglarized twice over the weekend and cigarettes valued at $1,980 were reportedly stolen.

Detectives said the building was entered sometime early Sunday by forcing a window on the Liberty Street side. Five cases of assorted cigarettes valued at $1,100 were allegedly stolen. This morning police were notified that the same place had been entered again by forcing a window on the south side of the building. Assorted cigarettes valued at $800 were reported missing.

A burglary at Utility Platers Inc., 420 Washington Street also is under investigation. The point of entry has not been determined but detectives reported 1,000 pounds of nickel material valued at $2,000 and 100 pounds of copper worth $300 were reported missing.

The Albany Avenue Garage also was hit by weekend burglars, police said. Entry was made by removing a piece of plywood from an overhead door. Wrenches and other tools worth $100 allegedly were taken.

An inventory is being taken at the J. B. Black & Co., cigar plant at 84 Wilbur Avenue following a burglary. Entry was gained through a window on the south side of the building. A new prybar, allegedly used by the intruders, was found in the office by police.

Detectives also reported the arrests of a youth and a young man on charges of robbery third degree in connection with a purse-snatching incident that occurred on Westbrook Lane near the Kingston Shopping Plaza Friday afternoon.

Booked were John Edward Scully, 21, of Sawkill Road, and Franklin Joseph Bell, 16, of 405 Hasbrouck Avenue. They allegedly took a purse from Theodora Flackton of 164 Fair Street. Uniformed officers later recovered the pocketbook.

Weekend Recycling... A Vast Collection

Ulster County's weekend recycling drive conducted at seven locations netted 40 tons of paper and 25 tons of glass under the coordinated efforts of the Environmental Task Force. Mrs. Shirley Kobran, chairman of the Task Force, urged shoppers to purchase beverages in returnable bottles and suggested that perhaps now various local governments should consider conducting their own recycling drives on a continuing basis in the future. (Freeman photo by Powell)

KICKS OFF DRIVE — Kenneth Whispell (L), Town of Kingston supervisor, kicks off the 1972 fund raising bazaar of the Sawkill Fire Company by purchasing the first ticket from Connie Bourignon, president of the company (C), as Chief George Leedecke looks on. The bazaar will be held rain or shine on August 3-4-5. Included in the events are pony rides for children, games for the whole family, a rock and roll dance on Friday and a round and square dance on Saturday, and a special surprise for the children, details to be announced. 7 Hurt on T-way Near Paltz

NEW PALTZ The seven injured were taken to Kingston Hospital by vehicles from Fatum's Ambulance Service.

Seven persons were injured shortly before 3 p.m. Sunday when the vehicle in which they were riding went out of control on the State Thruway about five miles north of this community, and rolled down an embankment into a gulley.

According to an incomplete report from State Police, the car was driven by Richard Williams, 22, of the Bronx, who was among the injured.

Most seriously injured was Kil Chang, 17, of New York City. He reportedly suffered a fracture of the skull when ejected and run over by the vehicle.

Others injured were Leonard Holloway, 16, Julius Washington, 14, and Vernon Baker, 13, all of the Bronx, and Tinney Fishburn, 15, and Carlos Valez, 17, both of Brooklyn.

Another area accident occurred early today on Cottekill Road. Hurley State Troopers P. W. Sheehan and R. C. Schanck noted in their report that Jeffery Owin, 51, of Appletree Drive, Saugerties was westbound on the highway when his car failed to negotiate a curve. The vehicle veered off the pavement and hit a utility pole.

Owin, police said, escaped injury but he was cited for driving while intoxicated and operating a motor vehicle while his license was revoked.

The utility pole involved in the accident reportedly was split in pieces causing a power outage in the Cottekill Road-Lucas Avenue area, it was reported.

A spokesman for the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation reported power in the area was interrupted for about 300 customers. Power had to be disconnected at the nearby substation between 4:30 and 5:30 a.m. about an hour during which a broken pole was replaced. This work took repairs were made later this morning and the power outage resulted.

1970 Fiscal Year Amounts

City, Area Gain Sewer Grants

ALBANY Three Ulster County municipalities are scheduled to receive state grants covering one-third the costs of operation and maintenance of their sewage treatment plants during the fiscal year of 1970, Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller announced today.

The City of Kingston will receive $26,396.67, by far the largest of the three Ulster County grants.

The Whittier Sewage District in the Town of Ulster will receive $2,153 toward its 1970 operation and the Walkkill Sewer District in the Town of Shawangunk will receive $947.63 for the same period.

The three grants are among 31 approved by Governor Rockefeller throughout the state. The annual Pure Waters grants are made through the Department of Environmental Conservation, which sets the standards that local sewage plants must meet to qualify for the funds.

The grants go only toward costs and maintenance of the sewage treatment plants themselves and do not cover such items as installation and maintenance of lateral lines, collector lines, or auxiliary pumping stations.

All three of the municipalities receiving Pure Waters grants are either in the process of or contemplating upgrading of their sewage treatment facilities. Chris Larios, of the engineering firm of Brinnier and Larios, consultants to the City of Kingston for the sewage treatment plant, said that the city's present primary treatment plant is being upgraded into a secondary treatment plant under a $2.7 million program expected to be completed in about a year.

The Whittier Sewer District, 18 years old, serves about 105 families in the Town of Ulster. Sewage is handled in the town's primary sewage treatment plant by settling and chlorination.

Carmino Sabino, supervisor for the Town of Ulster, said the grant was very close to what he had expected to get from the state for the 1970 operation of the district, and was close to the amount received in previous years.

Construction is presently under way on a new sewage treatment plant and sewer improvement area scheduled to be completed in the spring of 1973.

Francis Garrison, Shawangunk supervisor, said he had not yet received official notice of the grant for the town's primary treatment plant, which serves 1,200 families in and near Walkkill. He said the present plan was "taxed to capacity" and that the town will build a new secondary treatment plant some time within the next two years.

The new plant will serve an enlarged area along the Walkkill River north of the village, Garrison said.

Four Nabbed on Drug Charges

TOWN OF HURLEY Two young men and two women were arrested at 12:30 a.m. today by State Police on charges of criminal possession of dangerous drugs and possessing implements adapted for the use of narcotics.

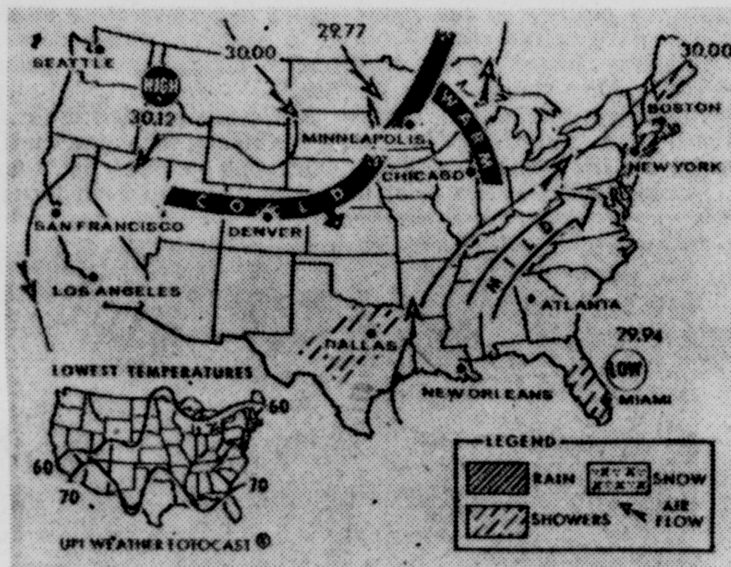

Troopers P.W. Sheehan and R.C. Schanck booked the four as Lorraine Bruckner, 24, of Parish Lane Lake Katrine, Colleen O'Rourke, 21, of Tinker Street, Woodstock, William Everett Santella, 18, of Elmendorf Street, Kingston and Barry Walter Davis, 21, whose address was listed as Colonial Gardens, Lake Katrine.

According to troopers, the four were arrested as they sat in a car parked in a lot at the Sunset Drive-in theater. They allegedly had in their possession marijuana and pipes.

The four were arraigned before Hurley Town Justice C.H. DuMond, who committed them to jail in lieu of $250 bail pending a hearing at a later date.

Hurley State Police also reported the arrest of Thomas William Mirto, 17, of Route 209, Accord. He was charged by Troopers J.C. Mikesch and R.M. Soarrow with criminal possession of dangerous drugs sixth degree—marijuana, and possessing an implement adapted for using drugs.

Mirto was committed to jail in lieu of $250 bail pending a hearing before Town Justice DuMond. The arrest was made at 1 a.m. in this township.

The Pentagon Papers

Ellsberg, Russo... Trial Underway

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Pentagon Papers trial of Daniel Ellsberg finally begins today and it could bring a parade of former government officials testifying about the practice of "leaking" classified information.

A panel of 100 prospective jurors was summoned to appear in U.S. district court in the government's espionage, theft and conspiracy case against the 41-year-old Ellsberg and codefendant Anthony J. Russo.

Selection of 12 jurors and six alternates is expected to require about a week, with the total trial lasting 10 to 12 weeks.

In pretrial hearings, the defense produced affidavits from a number of high government officials that it was common practice to make secret information available to the news media. Among them were John Kenneth Galbraith, former ambassador to India; Kennedy White House aide Theodore Sorenson and former assistant secretary of state for public affairs Robert Manning.

Another key question is whether the documents on the evolution and escalation of the Vietnam war contain information dangerous to the national security and defense. The government contends they do and has earmarked certain sections of the 57-volume study to prove their point.

Ellsberg and Russo say they broke no law but performed a patriotic act in making information available to the American public about Vietnam decision-making, that it may have been embarrassing to several administrations but was not espionage.

Both sides are expected to call expert witnesses on the sensitivity of the documents.

Ellsberg and Russo, colleagues at the Rand Corp. in Santa Monica from which they admit the papers were removed, face possible lengthy prison terms if they are convicted.

The indictment makes no mention of the "leaking" of the documents but actually talks only of a conspiracy alleged to have been carried out from March, 1969, to September, 1970, more than eight months before the documents were published.

The New York Times, which won this year's Pulitzer Prize for publishing the papers, is not mentioned in the indictment.

Lindsay to Introduce Anti-Gun Bill

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay this week will introduce legislation in the City Council to ban the manufacture, assembly and wholesale distribution of cheap handguns, manufacturer, assembler or standards when granting gun control," Lindsay said, "we must do all we can at the local level."

The legislation, Lindsay said, was a "followup" to similar legislation passed recently in Suffolk County, formerly the reported source of 60 per cent of all cheap handguns in New York State.

In an effort to eliminate firearms thefts as a source of illegal gun possession, standards also would be set to ensure strictest security measures in the storage and shipment of guns, Lindsay said. Other proposed standards would prevent convicted criminals and those with records of drug and alcohol abuse from working in the firearms industry.

Lindsay, who was in Miami Beach Sunday at the Democratic National Convention, announced the proposed legislation in a prepared statement issued at City Hall.

Democratic Party Reports Telethon Gains $4.5 Million in Pledges

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Democratic party says nearly $4.5 million was pledged during its 19-hour money-raising telethon.

But despite the financial success of the program, the party is still more than $6 million in debt from the 1968 campaign.

The party conducted the television extravaganza in an effort to wipe out a $9.3 million 1968 debt. Performers appearing on the show which ended Sunday night donated their services, but the Democrats reportedly had to pay the ABC television network $1.6 million for the airtime.

Officials were hopeful that late mail-in contributions would push the show's gross over $5 million.

Viewers pledged the contributions via telephone calls to 32 regional centers manned by 12,000 volunteers or charged it to credit cards.

At one point in the show early Sunday morning, one telephone host placed a call to the Western White House at San Clemente, Calif., to ask President Nixon for a contribution. The call, however, never got past what apparently was a guard who thought the idea was a bad joke.

Poughkeepsie Flood Supplies Sent by Plane

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — The first plane load of supplies was to leave Poughkeepsie this afternoon, officials said.

Five private pilots donated their services and planes to carry food, clothing and other material to the flood-stricken areas around Elmira-Corning and Painted Post, N.Y., and the Wilkes-Barre and Kingston, Pa., areas.

Using telephone lines donated by the New York Telephone Co., the telethon started with a program of continuous entertainment. Cooperating with the effort are local newspapers, the city's cable-television system, and a half-dozen area radio stations.

Ulster Contract Negotiations ... At Factfinding Stage

STONE RIDGE Contract negotiations between the Ulster County Community College Faculty Association and the Ulster County Legislature have reached the factfinding stage, with the first session scheduled for Tuesday.

A factfinder was appointed to the contract dispute in June by the New York State Public Employees Relations Board. Rather than enter into immediate and formal factfinding sessions, the factfinder instead tried to mediate a settlement between the two groups. Sessions were held June 28 and 29, the differences were not resolved.

As a result, the PERB appointee announced that negotiations would enter the factfinding stage.

The negotiating teams for both the Faculty Association and the County Legislature's Community College Committee have been asked to attend Tuesday's factfinding session. Following Tuesday's session, the factfinder will make his formal recommendations for a settlement. The Faculty Association has already indicated that it will, in all likelihood, accept the factfinder's report. Both sides, however, must accept the factfinder's recommendations in order for a settlement to be reached at this time.

Counting on the move to factfinding, Faculty Association president Alan Duane said, "I sincerely regret the failure of our efforts to reach a negotiated settlement. We have bargained in good faith, have been willing to compromise and still can't reach an agreement. It is unfortunate that mediation, and now factfinding, have proven necessary, but we are certain that our position is fair and equitable.

An impasse in the negotiations between the faculty and the legislature was declared May 17, after the two sides failed to reach agreement during eight negotiating sessions. Both sides reported, at the time, that a number of points remained unresolved. The move to declare an impasse was made by the County Legislature committee, and was criticized by the Faculty Association, which expressed a desire to continue with negotiations.

Both sides went the same route in 1970. After negotiations, mediation and factfinding failed to resolve the dispute, members of the UCCC faculty went on strike to force a settlement. The college was closed for several days before the strike was terminated. A contract was later negotiated.

Faculty Association officials have warned that, if teachers are without a contract in September, a repeat of the 1970 strike may occur.

New Paltz College Gains Aid for International Studies

NEW PALTZ Education and the area community colleges during the second year.

The Faculty of Education of the State University College at New Paltz will receive a grant of $27,800 for international studies from the Federal government.

The granting of the funds will be made under Public Law 85-864, Title VI of the National Defense Education Act, was announced this week by U. S. Commissioner of Education Sidney P. Marland Jr., through Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. (R-29).

Faculty of Education Dean Mario Fantini stated the grant would contribute to the development of international dimensions of the Faculty of Education for the training of prospective teachers, and extend these developments to Mid-Hudson Regional Community Colleges.

The project committee, with Dr. David McDowell as its director, is developing a course for first and second year students which examines polycultural education from a world-wide perspective. The course will examine how children are raised within the family and school settings in countries in Africa, Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, and Europe.

Issues and models of educational practice will be examined, in order to understand the strengths and weaknesses of our American educational practice.

Other courses concerned with the educational systems of the individual regions will be developed for third and fourth year students.

The community colleges of Orange, Dutchess, Ulster, Rockland and Sullivan Counties will play an important part in the project. They will participate in the 10 workshops planned, and offer general education courses developed during the project.

The workshops will plan the overseas trips by project committeemen to research foreign school systems, the course outlines, and the procedures for implementing the new courses.

The project will take two years to complete. Planning and field trips overseas will take place in the first year. The newly developed courses will be instituted by the Faculty of

UCCC Gets Grant for New Course

STONE RIDGE Ulster County Community College has received approval of a $14,425 federal grant to provide necessary equipment and instructional materials for the new diploma program in Landscape Development and Maintenance which will begin Sept. 1.

Word of the grant approval was received from Paul C. Chakonas, Associate in Higher Occupational Education in the State Education Department in Albany.

Dr. George B. Erbstein, president, said the grant will provide equipment and supplies for the initiation of this new work experience program.

"We're most fortunate to receive this grant," said President Erbstein, "which will be a big help to the College in starting this new program which will fulfill an important need in the community."

The program will provide instruction for individuals to be employed in Ulster County who need direct application of landscaping activities, equipment utilization techniques and new applications of portable greenhouse structures.

Clinics Planned

Two area immunization clinics have been set by the Ulster County Health Department for Tuesday, July. Immunizations against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, measles and rubella will be given 9 to 10 a. m. at the New Paltz Health Center and 12 noon to 1:30 p. m. at the Kripplbush Firehouse on that date. The clinics serve those who are referred by their physicians or those who are otherwise unable to secure the immunizations.

MUSEUM GIFT — Officials of the D&H Canal Historical Society inspect canal boat model presented recently to the museum. They are James E. Powers, trustee and museum committeeman; Mrs. Warren Van Kleeck, museum chairman and Miss Grace Elliott, chairman of the board of trustees. The canal boat model was given to the museum by Mrs. Thomas Quinn whose father, Nicholas Bruck, worked on the D&H Canal as a boy and constructed the model around 1875. The museum maintained by the society is in the Old Schoolhouse, School Hill Road, High Falls, and is open Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays 2 to 5 p. m. until Oct. 31. Admission is free. The museum may be opened for special groups by calling Mrs. Van Kleeck. More than 200 school children from area schools visited the museum during the past month on educational field trips. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Peaceful Rock Lulls Poconos

LONG POND, Pa. (UPI)—It was the biggest and most peaceful rock festival since Woodstock. More than 200,000 people braved the rains, mud, lack of toilet facilities and cheap wine at Pocono International Raceway over the weekend.

Despite massive traffic jams and several minor accidents, state police reported the rock fans were well controlled. Marijuana and hard drugs were available, but police said use was not extensive. By Sunday afternoon, only a few stragglers remained to pick up broken glass and rake up garbage on the 600-acre track. The festival was to last only one day, but was expanded when rain forced rock bands from the open stage Saturday night.

"On a scale of 10, I'd have to give them a 9.9," said raceway manager Bill Marvel. "A lot of people hear about other concerts, but this was the first I've been involved with and we're very happy about it." The biggest problem at the concert was traffic. State police said major highways through the resort area were closed because some fans parked their cars on them when the spaces ran out at the raceway. While there were no serious injuries at the festival, Dennis Fernert, 17, Wallingford, N.J., was killed Saturday in a car accident near the site.

Couple Set For Hearing

TOWN OF ULSTER
A young Kingston couple were scheduled for a hearing in town justice's court on Tuesday on charges of petit larceny as a result of their arrests by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Nersesian early Saturday morning.

Booked on the charges were Arthur R. Short, 21, of 37 Liberty Street, Kingston, and his wife, Margaret F. Short, 19. The deputy reported he was on a routine check at the Mart when he saw the couple. After questioning them they were taken in custody. A check of the couple's car by the deputy uncovered several articles of merchandise for which they allegedly could not produce sales slips. The items, which had been left outside the building, were valued at about $139, police said.

Barclay Sewer Meeting Looms

SAUGERTIES The proposed meeting with Barclay Heights plan would have to utilize facilities erected by the town. If the village is forced to erect a new plant, the Barclay Heights project could utilize the new village facilities.

A date for the meeting has not yet been set. The recent Town Board meeting also included a complaint from Frank Anderson that the town landfill site is polluting his well, and a stream that runs into the Esopus Creek. But Supervisor Michael Schovel pointed out that the town's landfill has been approved by the Ulster County Board of Health and State Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Subdivision Hearing Set

SAWKILL business matters, including the announcement that the town's Recreation Commission will sponsor a "field day" for town children 16 years of age and under on Saturday, July 15. The event will be held at the recreation field adjacent to the Town Hall, and will include free refreshments, games and contests for the youngsters.

The most significant change proposed, according to Town Supervisor Kenneth Whispell, is an increase in the minimum size of a subdivision from 80 feet by 120 feet to 1.5 acres. At a recent Town Board meeting, Whispell explained that the changes are being proposed in light of expected revisions that will be mandated by the Ulster County Board of Health. The Board of Health is reportedly considering establishing a mandatory minimum size of 12,000 square feet for a plot that is not tied in to a community sewage system.

The proposed changes are designed to make it easier for a subdivision to conform to both minimum size and sewage requirements. The public hearing will be held at 8 p.m. at the Town Hall in Sawkill. The remainder of the meeting was devoted to routine

Two Sentenced For Implements

KINGSTON James pleaded guilty to possessing a narcotic implement, a pipe. He was fined $100. Other charges against James filed at the time of his arrest included unlawfully dealing in fireworks — a starter's pistol and tear gas cartridges, criminal possession of dangerous drugs fourth degree — marijuana and amphetamines and possessing authorities as Stanley L. Hinson, 23, and Larry W. James, 25, both of High Point, N.C.

Hinson pleaded guilty to possessing a hashish pipe. He also pleaded guilty to having no log book on the truck he was driving when stopped in uptown Kingston. Judge Richter imposed fines of $50 on each count and gave the defendant a conditional discharge of 30 days.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 10, 1972

MIAMI — AFL-CIO chief George Meany, the angry man behind the Stop McGovern drive, has made kindling of every olive branch the McGovern forces have offered him.

The durable old despot has been cordial enough to George McGovern in person and even gave his blunt blessing to a McGovern speech at the AFL-CIO convention.

Privately, however, the old

Meany, Senator ... No Love Lost

Jack Anderson Says

curmudgeon breathes fire at the mention of McGovern's name, calls him "the candidate of amnesty, acid and appeasement" and threatens to withhold AFL-CIO support if he's nominated.

What's more, Meany apparently won't be mollified. He's accustomed to settling Democratic presidential politics in the smoke-filled backrooms, with his own stogie predominant. And he's too old and stubborn to let party reforms change the political habits of a lifetime.

Some intimates say he turned sour on McGovern during the Senate battle over Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act in 1966. The AFL-CIO sought to repeal this section, which permits states to adopt right-to-work laws that weaken labor unions.

The move was defeated by a filibuster, which pro-labor senators tried in vain to shut off. On the first roll call, McGovern voted to stop the filibuster.

McGovern Mix-up

This was unpopular in McGovern's native South Dakota, which has a right-to-work law. He, therefore, notified two top labor lobbyists—the AFL-CIO's Andy Biemiller and the Retail Clerks' Charles Lipsen—that he would like to change his vote. He asked for their agreement, promising he would stick with them if they really needed his vote. Biemiller agreed to give McGovern a "pass," that is, to release him from his labor commitment unless his vote should be needed in the clutch.

On the next roll call, McGovern's vote wasn't decisive, so he switched in favor of the filibuster. He was the only one who changed his vote.

Meany was so angry that the lobbyists didn't dare tell him they had okayed McGovern's reversal. The old labor lord was attending a shindig at Miami's Americana Hotel when he learned they had lost a vote on the second roll call.

Witnesses recall that he turned on Lipsen, who had flown to Miami for the occasion.

"Who was the double-crosser?" growled Meany. "Let me explain," Lipsen began.

Meany cut him off. "I don't want any explanations," he thundered. "Just tell me who was the double-crosser."

Lipsen kept trying to explain the circumstances but finally was browbeaten into simply divulging McGovern's name. That was all Meany wanted to hear.

Rather than embarrass the two subordinates, McGovern never tried to square himself with Meany. Only reluctantly would McGovern now confirm the incident to his six years afterward. Lipsen refused to comment, saying only that Meany was "a great man." And Biemiller couldn't be reached.

Meeting With Meany

At the start of his presidential campaign last year, McGovern tried to make peace with Meany. McGovern carefully avoided compromising the two labor lobbyists and, therefore, didn't mention that he had cleared his controversial vote in advance. All he said to Meany was: "I was wrong on the 14(b) matter. I struck out. I made a mistake."

To McGovern's surprise, Meany shrugged it off. "What upset me more than that," he grunted, "was your criticism of me on the Russian wheat deal."

As Food for Peace director during the Kennedy Administration, McGovern had accused Meany of blocking wheat shipments to Russia. The AFL-CIO chief said it wasn't true.

McGovern said his information had come from the highest authority. "But if I was wrong," he said, "I apologize."

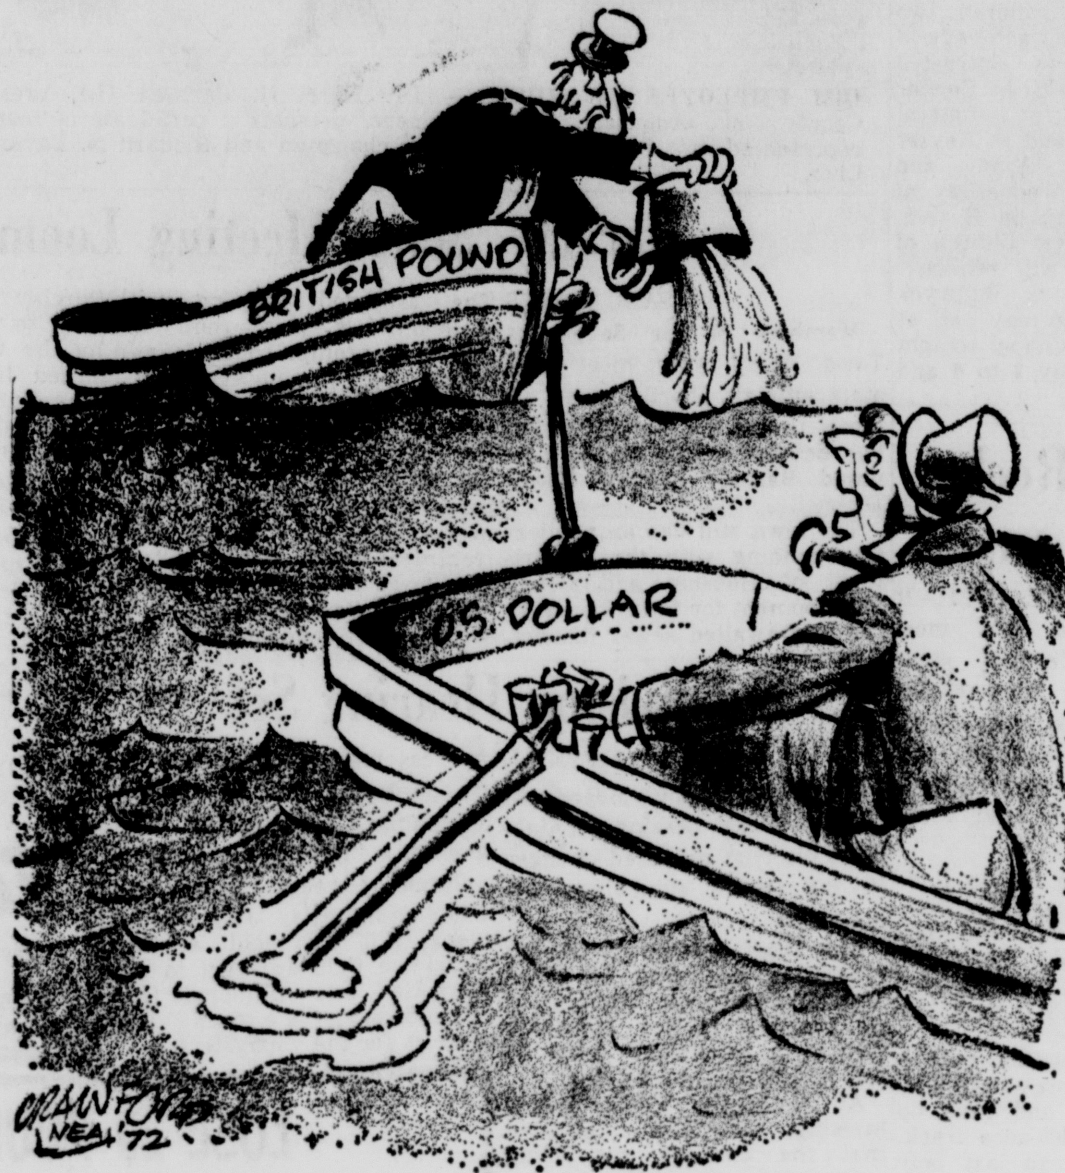

What really bothers Meany, say some intimates, is McGovern's anti-war record. But whatever it is, the 77-year-old labor leader intends to summon all his fading powers to block McGovern's nomination.

Democratic Doings

Running mates — Party regulars are pushing Wilbur Mills for the vice presidential nomination. As House Ways and Means chairman, he has clout with the big corporations. And the Democrats are so broke, they need a candidate with access to some corporate cash. Senator George McGovern, however, doesn't want any of the party's big guns as his running mate. He has talked to subordinates even about picking a non-politician, perhaps a college president or a consumer advocate like Ralph Nader, for the No. 2 spot. Hubert Humphrey told us that, if he should be nominated, he'd try to persuade McGovern to accept the vice presidential nomination.

McGovern's Acceptance — George McGovern has been quietly collecting ideas from his staff for an acceptance speech in case he should win the Democratic presidential nomination. He'll write the final draft himself, because he's uncomfortable with someone else's phrases. Throughout the campaign, he'll avoid formal speeches as much as possible. He prefers the informality of a press conference.

"Don't Make Waves!"

Bruce Blossat Says

McGovern Forces Worry

MIAMI BEACH (NEA) — Sen. George McGovern's strategists, preparing their final drives toward a hoped-for first ballot nomination, are deeply concerned over the pressures their last-ditch opponents may apply against them.

Assembled on the Democratic convention scene here to plan climactic moves, the McGovern high command is sobered by the skillful display of pressure put on by the stop-McGovern forces earlier in Washington in the convention credentials committee.

The McGovern managers are saying publicly that they have a "buffer" or surplus of votes totaling perhaps 100 or more than they need to overturn the credentials committee's decision stripping the senator of 153 of the delegates he won in the California primary June 6.

Under winner-take-all provisions in the state law, McGovern had captured 271 delegates that day. The committee voted to scale him down to 118 and assign the rest to Sen. Hubert Humphrey and lesser rivals on a proportional basis reflecting the size of their vote.

A Ruling
Meanwhile, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger was expected momentarily to decide whether to convene the Supreme Court in emergency session to decide the vote issue.

The McGovern forces fundamentally are good vote-counters but, having been beaten in committee on the crucial challenge, they no longer look upon their own count with supreme confidence. Says one strategist: "I think we do have the votes. The question, however, is whether some of them will come unstuck. I'm apprehensive."

What these fears recognize is that this phase of the battle for the 1972 nomination is being fought in a setting and under conditions far more suitable than earlier to McGovern's opponents.

The senator's superb field organization, ably directed and heavily fueled by energetic young people, bowled over establishment figures in state after state as he won 10 primaries and took a strong front position.

As I have noted in earlier reports, my periodic soundings of the country disclosed that the McGovern successes had in many places etched a trail in acid. I have seldom heard such bitterness. Often these complaining party leaders felt that they had not only been beaten and thrust aside, but victimized by arrogant young McGovern organizers bent on revenge against the older regulars.

The successful challenge against McGovern's California delegates was the great moment of reprisal. The infighting which produced that result is the kind of combat they know better than do the dedicated but somewhat green McGovern cadres.

That is the core of McGovern's worry as the convention drama takes shape. His managers think they "have the numbers" on their side. They insist they have been mightily encouraged by new pledges of support and sympathy since the controversial California decision. But they have learned that their opponents have a pretty good lock on a very important skill — taking numbers away.

Obviously, two can play at the game of pressure. But my reading of the McGovern camp at this unfolding final stage is that his key people feel they may be outmatched at this game.

What they talk about today is winning through a special chemistry, by trying to build to tidal proportions the feeling of revulsion they say they find among hundreds and hundreds of delegates against the stop McGovern tactics used in the credentials committee.

McGovern leaders assert that their delegate sympathizers believe "fair play" was violated by the California ruling changing the outcome long after the primary was over. Their real hope is that "fair play" become a clarion cry that will drown out the clamoring pressures of their skillful opponents in the convention.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

An Unsung Hero With a Heart

Physicians seldom get good publicity. They do not understand that making an accurate diagnosis in a complex case, or prescribing the treatment indicated, does not make news. It is only when a doctor makes a big mistake, or is sued for malpractice, that his name makes the newspapers.

It is an editorial rule of thumb that good news is not news. The American Medical Association, which pontificates about medical ethics, and maintains a lobby which exhales its hot antiseptic breath down the necks of the Congress, cannot equate its attitude with its actions.

I knew an old G.P. who was retiring after 60 years of practice. I sat with him in a small second floor office, replete with polished floor, a cabinet full of shiny instruments, while he covered a small enamel stool in a long white coat.

He told me how he started practice with a horse and a rig and a medical bag. The horse cost $40; the carriage $80; the bag was a gift from his parents. He served the tenement house poor and often retrieved his fee from a family icebox. He lived on spaghetti and cheese and bread for a few years.

After the story was published, four or five physicians who were friends phoned. "What did you write the story about that old man for?" they asked collectively. "He can't use the publicity. I can." Each of them was a highly ethical physician from the New York area.

Recently, I renewed my acquaintance with surgeons and physicians. A spinal disk had to be trimmed out. The work was excellent; perfection itself. The care, the treatment, the nurses were of the highest. So is the bill, which will come to a little more than $3,000.

I do not complain. I can pay. But I wonder what happens to a person earning $2 an hour who needs surgery.

How about the several millions of Americans who are on relief? My father, who never earned more than $5,000 a year in his life, may be the only man in America who made a profit every time he was hospitalized. He had so many medical and surgical policies that, when he had his gall bladder removed (age 70) and an ulcer operation (age 83), he filled out all the insurance forms himself and came out with a minimum of $400, to $500 in addition to the best treatment.

Medicine, like law and engineering, has its philanthropic practitioners as well as crooks. Many physicians and surgeons have charity cases and free clinic work which is never publicized. This proves that good guys never give a profession a good name.

I knew an elderly doctor who lived near Red Bank, New Jersey. He was semi-retired. He picked his spots. One day an emergency walked in his front door. An hysterical woman half carried a 12-year-old boy who held his hands out as though he was bearing an invisible gift.

He tried hard not to sob, but he lost. The boy had been making a small radio set. He had a pot of hot lead and some wires. The pot tilted and the lead sealed both of his hands. The doctor examined the curled up fingers, the skin and flesh flaking off.

The old doctor said it was a hospital case. The woman said it wasn't. He did his best, including dressing like boxing gloves. "His hands are badly damaged," the doctor said. "Some of the tendons appear to have atrophied already. I don't know whether the full function of his hands will ever be restored. But I'll try."

"How much will it cost?" the woman snapped. "Is cost important?" the doctor said. "It sure is," she said. "I'm a widow. I support him." The old man said softly: "Would five dollars a visit be too much?" "It would," she said angrily, "but I'll pay it." The boy and the old man became friends over the weeks and months. The youngster said that if he ever got the use of his hands back, he would study to become a doctor. In the second year, much of the work involved home therapy and exercise. The boy had hands and fingers that would work, but he had skin of three shades. The doctor ordered the boy to try wood carving as a therapeutic hobby.

The mother told the doctor that her son would have been well long ago if he hadn't been so hungry for her weekly $5. On the final visit, the boy walked into the doctor's office with his hands out, as though he was bearing a gift. He was. It was a two-masted, fully rigged schooner.

The old doctor accepted it gravely. Then he gave a small book to the boy. It was filled with $5 bank deposits in the boy's name. The total was close to $500.

"This is yours," he said to the youngster, "just in case you still want to study medicine."

Harmony! It's About Time

What's in a second?

Enough to bring all the nations of the world into agreement for a change, which is a very great deal indeed.

The agreement was on a 61-second minute, the first such in all of recorded time. In case you missed it, the long count occurred simultaneously around the world at times ranging from 2 p.m. June 30 in Hawaii to 1 a.m. July 1 in London and was necessary to bring the earth back into the same time frequency as the universe.

Earth time is based on the revolution of the planet, which has a tendency to wobble a bit. Universal time, for scientific purposes, is based on the radiation of an atom of cesium, which never, never varies—9,192,631,770 oscillations per second. The discrepancy compounded over the years could have had inconvenient consequences, such as sunsets at noon.

Thus the worldwide decision to add an extra second to ordinary earth time won't have any effect on the boiling time of an egg or make anyone any earlier or later, in getting to the office.

But it is at least comforting to know that such really cosmic matters can be settled by the nations with such simplicity and that we earthlings, with all our mundane problems of war, poverty and pollution are once again synchronized with the universe.

"Sorry to have beaten you again, dear. Can I help it if I'm another Chris Evert?"

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices were mixed in today's stock market, following a slow and weak session Friday.

Advancing issues on the New York Stock Exchange took a small lead over declining stocks. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off fractionally.

Securities analysts said investors would be watching two events this week — the Democratic national convention and the Paris peace talks.

U.S. Steel was up 1/4 to 29 3/4 and Sterling Drug was ahead 1/4 to 35 1/2. Kennecott, which recently reduced its copper prices, was off 1/4 to 22 1/2.

Nixon Keeping Alive Plane Deal for China

NEW YORK (AP)—In order to further relations with China, President Nixon has kept alive a $150 million deal by the Boeing Co. to sell 10 jetliners to China, Time Magazine reports in its current issue.

Town Park Occupies Wawarsing Agenda

Legal maneuvers surrounding the proposed purchase of property for the site of new town park occupied part of the agenda of the meeting of the Wawarsing Town Board.

New Train Schedules Due July 17

NEW YORK (UPI) — New schedules are coming July 17 for riders on the Hudson, Harlem and New Haven lines of the Penn Central Railroad, it was announced.

New timetables will be available this Wednesday. The company said there will be virtually no change in the total number of trains operated, nor in the general commuting patterns.

On the Hudson line, the new schedules will mark the introduction of FL-9 dual-powered locomotives on the four through trains between Poughkeepsie and Grand Central terminal.

This will eliminate the time-consuming engine change at Harmon, speeding up these trains an average of 15 minutes, officials said.

There will be hourly service between New York and all stations to Harmon, and trains every two hours between New York and the Peekskill and Poughkeepsie areas during the off-peak and weekend periods.

Service on the Harlem line will be adjusted to fully utilize the 128 new metropolitan cars between Mount Vernon and North White Plains.

A regular pattern of off-peak service would be provided with trains every half hour between Grand Central and North White Plains and hourly service beyond North White Plains to Brewster.

Though one direct train, in each direction, between Dover Plains and New York will be eliminated, trains operating between Dover Plains and Brewster will be increased from five to 16—all making connections to or from New York.

Man Dies, Struck by Car

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (UPI) — Kenneth M. Smith, 23, of Lockport, was killed Sunday when struck by a car while walking along South Transit Road in the town of Lockport in Niagara County, authorities said.

Smith was pronounced dead on arrival at Lockport Memorial Hospital.

The driver of the car was not charged.

Smith lived at 7153 Rapids Rd.

April for the sale of four 707 passenger jets and six cargo versions, the magazine said Sunday.

"Pentagon officials tried to shoot down the Boeing sale last month on the grounds that the six cargo models could be used to ferry military supplies to North Vietnam," the magazine said.

"But Nixon had his technology counselor, William Magruder, silence the obstructionists," it said.

An export license for the deal was granted by the Commerce Department at the President's urging, the magazine reported.

According to the article, the Chinese will pay in Western currencies for the planes, a supply of spare parts and training for Chinese crews.

The White House expects the deal to be completed next month, according to the magazine.

"Ultimately," the article said, "the Chinese may need 80 more planes, and they have already expressed interest in a Boeing 747 jumbo jet."

HURLEY

The Town of Hurley summer recreation program has started for the season with a slightly different format this year.

West Hurley and Old Hurley are running separate programs this year. The Old Hurley program will be held at the Recreation Park, DeWitt Mills Road. Schedule will be as follows:

Today noon to 3 p. m. organized games; Thursday and Friday 10 a. m. to noon, open swim in pool for all under regular supervision of lifeguards and noon to 3 p. m., alternate activities including art, games and free time.

Members of the Hurley Recreation Park may swim at any time during the day while non-members will be restricted to the regular swim periods.

The program is sponsored by the Hurley Town Board and is under the direction of Frank Ebelheiser, Hurley Elementary School teacher.

Summer Program Begins

GARDINER

The Town of Gardiner Summer Recreation program opened July 4 at Camp Walkill for family participation.

The youth recreation program starts today with arts and crafts, athletic activities as well will be 10 a. m. to 12 noon Monday through Saturday. Pre-registration is necessary. The pool is open Monday through Saturday from 12 noon to 5 p. m. and 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. Sunday hours are 12 noon to 5 p. m.

The facilities are maintained through the courtesy of Children's Aid Society and financially supported by donations from residents. The extent of the program depends on money received. All donations may be sent to the Gardiner Recreation Committee, Box 1, Gardiner. Mrs. Vivian McCord, town clerk may be contacted for further information. Mrs. Pat Dippel is swimming director.

Wedding Vows Exchanged Recently

MRS. PHILIP SPINELLI (Elizabeth Anne DeLisio) (Glenn Dale Studio)

MRS. ROBERT A. DU VERNOY JR. (Marianne E. Finken) (Glenn Dale Studio)

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. DeLisio of Woodstock have announced the religious celebration of the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Anne, to Philip Spinelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Filomen Spinelli of Shokan.

The wedding ceremony took place in St. Joan of Arc Church, Woodstock, with the Rev. Gerard O'Shea, assistant pastor of St. John's Church, West Hurley, officiating at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Dorothy Narel provided traditional wedding selections.

Anthony DeLisio gave his daughter in marriage. She selected a white silk crepe gown in the empire styling. The gown featured a fitted bodice, ring neckline and coat sleeves accented with Venice lace. Matching lace trimmed the detachable chapel length train. A spray of lily of valley held her French silk illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of cala lilies and baby's breath.

Mrs. James Joy, sister of the bride, Phoenix, Ariz., served as matron of honor. Mrs. Donna Pelham of Woodstock served as an attendant. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Tiffany DeLisio, Woodstock; Miss Amy Joy, Phoenix, Ariz.; and Miss Cheri Rowe, Woodstock.

The bride selected a color scheme of apricot, yellow and green for her bridal party. The attendants' gowns were fashioned of chiffon and featured bishop sleeves and ruffled hemline. They carried baskets of roses, daisies, tulips and baby's breath.

The junior bridesmaids' gowns were similar in styling to the bride's in dotted swiss. They carried baskets of yellow daisies and baby's breath. All attendants wore floral headpieces.

Robert Sanzi, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Mount Tremper, served as best man. Robert Gordan Jr. of Woodstock served as an usher. Junior ushers were Jeffrey DeLisio, Todd DeLisio, both of Woodstock; and Anthony DeLisio. An chorage, Alaska, all nephews of the bride.

A cocktail party and reception for 160 guests was held at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Spinelli was graduated in 1967 from St. Paul's Catholic High School, St. Petersburg, Fla. She attended St. Petersburg Junior College and Ulster County Community College. Mrs. Spinelli was graduated from Albany Nursing School and is employed by Benedictine Hospital.

Her husband, a 1966 alumnus of Ontario Central High School, served two years with the U.S. Marine Corps, earning the rank of sergeant. He is employed by John McManus, Mason Contractor.

Announcement was made today of the wedding of Miss Marianne E. Finken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Finken of Malden-on-Hudson, and Robert A. Du Vernoy Jr. of Kingston. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Du Vernoy Sr. of Malden-on-Hudson.

The wedding took place in St. Mary of the Snow Church, Saugerties, with the Rev. Msgr. Charles J. Kaufmann officiating at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Charles Dickman provided traditional wedding selections.

Edward Finken gave his daughter in marriage. The bride designed and made her gown of white satin brocade in the princess styling. A pearl crown held her chapel length veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses and miniature blue carnations with baby's breath and blue streamers.

Clare Finken of Malden-on-Hudson, served as honor attendant for her sister in a Nile green dotted Swiss princess gown. A wreath of daisies served as her headpiece and she carried a daisy bouquet with baby's breath and yellow streamers.

Arthur Russell of Saugerties was best man.

A reception was held at Governor Clinton Hotel.

Mrs. Du Vernoy was graduated from Ontario Central High School, class of 1968. She attended State University of New York at Cobleskill and is employed by Metropolitan Life Insurance, Hall of Records.

Her husband is an alumnus of Saugerties High School and has attended Ulster County Community College. He is employed by KTB Incorporated, Saugerties.

Mr. and Mrs. Du Vernoy will reside in Kingston upon their return from a wedding trip to Cape Cod and Boston, Mass.

Betrothals Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Guadagnola of West Hurley announce the engagement of their daughter, Eileen Elizabeth, to Gordon Owen Dayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Dayton of Wittenberg.

The future bride is a senior at State University College at Brockport where she is majoring in Psychology.

Her fiancé is also a senior at State University College at Brockport, majoring in Geology.

An August 19 wedding is being planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Lupton of Van Dusen Terrace, Hurley, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Brooks, to R. Abel Garraghan of Skytop Apartments, Kingston.

Mr. Garraghan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Garraghan of Kingston and Craigville, Mass.

Miss Lupton is the granddaughter of Mrs. Adah F. Burdette of Oak Hill, West Va., and her fiancé is the grandson of Mrs. Katherine R. Abernathy of Kingston and the late Abel B. Abernathy.

The bride-elect was graduated in 1967 from Kingston High School. She received a BA degree in 1971 from Hope College where she was president of Sigma Sigma Sorority. Miss Lupton is a provisional member of the Junior League of Kingston and is employed by Ontario Central Schools.

Mr. Garraghan attended Canterbury School and was graduated from Kingston High School. He also attended Manhattan College and was graduated from Syracuse University. Mr. Garraghan is a principal in Kingston Securities and is an officer of Garraghan Oil Company.

An August 5 wedding is planned.

Dear Abby
BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have several very wealthy ladies for whom I work regularly. I go to their homes to perform a personal service.

One of the ladies is not only rich, she is also quite famous. When it comes time for her to pay me, she will bring out a used evening bag, or a pair of shoes, or a hat, or some kind of wearing apparel and try to make some kind of deal with me in exchange for my services.

Abby, I know that all her things were very expensive when they were new, but I have no use for such elegant articles, and besides, I work because I need the money.

How can I let her know that I wish she would simply pay me and not subject me to the embarrassment of having to say I cannot use her second-hand things?

TIMID IN L. A.

DEAR TIMID: Tell her that you can't afford to work for "things" because you must have CASH to pay your bills.

DEAR ABBY: Sorry, but I disagree with you as to the impropriety of a student selling his class notes. I'd consider these notes as similar to a reference book.

When I attended medical school, each fraternity had an extensive file of old exam questions and class notes which went back years and were used extensively by the students. I am sure these contributed greatly to the learning process.

Since I have three college degrees with 11 years of college, and later taught for seven years in medical schools, I believe I am well qualified to express an opinion on this subject.

EDWARD S. CARDWELL JR., M. D.

COLUMBIA, S. C.

DEAR DR. CARDWELL: Ten whacks for me with any one of your rolled up diplomas. I rarely argue with authority.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Our Energy Crisis—Part 6

WE DON'T SELL OIL, BUT....

About 25 per cent of the oil used in our country at the present time is imported. Based on current trends, in about another decade half of all the oil used in the United States will be imported, largely from Middle East countries. This is a risky course of action. Here's why:

Insecure Supply
The supply of foreign oil is insecure because it is not under our control. The U.S. could be subject to enormous political and economic pressures by Middle East countries which could turn off or curtail our supply of this vital fuel.

Rising Prices
Foreign oil was once significantly cheaper than domestic oil. But major price increases have taken place and more are on the way. It's a seller's market, and Middle East countries will continue to drive prices up.

Unfavorable Balance of Payments
Even if we could obtain all the oil we will require, the billions of dollars paid annually to the Middle East countries could seriously affect our financial position.

Foreign Policy
Being dependent upon Middle East oil could seriously weaken our foreign policy position and endanger our national security. We would not have the freedom of action necessary to maintain our position as a world leader.

There are other problems too. We're competing with countries throughout the world for a large, but not unlimited oil supply. And because we don't have a large tanker fleet, we may become dependent upon foreign countries for delivery as well as supply.

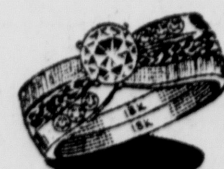

Why should Central Hudson—which provides gas and electric service—be concerned about oil? We use millions of barrels of oil to generate your electricity. In order to meet air pollution control regulations, we burn a special kind of oil which has a very low sulphur content. It's imported.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post:

I'd like to keep most of my friends, so please tell me what is the correct answer to make to this question: "How come you're not going to Europe, Alaska, another state in the U.S.A., or wherever, on your vacation?" Some even told us, "You know, you can't take it with you when you die!" We never ask anybody why they travel here and there, and spend more money than they should, so why ask us?

I'm afraid some day I'll lose my temper, tho, because my husband is retiring next year and already they are asking us if we will sell our house, and if so, what type of house we're looking for.

My husband and I each have a hobby which costs very little and we get along very nicely and are happy together, and with our children. We sure have nosy friends, or are they friends?

Mrs. J. C.

Dear Mrs. C.: Frankly, I think you are being over-sensitive. Your friends are not necessarily just nosy — they undoubtedly have a sincere interest in you and your future plans. They may also, rightly or wrongly, feel that you are missing something and are indirectly trying to correct that.

However, you and your husband certainly have the right to pass your vacations and your retirement exactly as you wish. To make this perfectly clear to your friends, simply reply to their questions: "We are staying home because we are happier here than anywhere else. And we are remaining in our home because we know we couldn't find one we like better." And then change the subject and don't be goaded into further explanations.

Dear Mrs. Post:

My mother is very disappointed because we're not having a graduation party for our daughter in a hall. I told her it's in very bad taste and she claims I'm wrong. May I please have your opinion?

Mrs. Collins

Dear Mrs. Collins: There is nothing wrong with having a graduation party in a hall, but it certainly is not necessary. Generally such parties are restricted to close friends and relatives, so that more distant acquaintances would not feel obligated to bring a gift.

It really is not your mother's business — do whatever you and your daughter, between you, wish to do.

Dear Mrs. Post:

Can you please settle an argument in our family? Some of my sisters-in-law say that at a wedding reception each member of a family, including children, receives a slice of wedding cake, and some of us say it is one slice to a family. What is the proper procedure?

Mrs. J. F.

Every guest at a wedding reception should be offered a piece of wedding cake. If one slice were given to a family, how in the world would it be divided up, or would the head of the family eat it alone? That would hardly seem fair to the others, would it — especially the children who love cake and don't have to watch their waistlines! (c 1972 Emily Post Institute, Inc.)

"And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little", a tragic comedy by Paul Zindel, will open tonight at the Hyde Park Playhouse.

Mr. Zindel, the Pulitzer Prize winning playwright of the Off-Broadway hit "The Effects of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds," which also won him a Drama Desk Award, and the Variety Poll of Critics Award, is the outstanding new playwright of the season.

Coming as it did so soon after the overwhelming success of "Marigolds," Miss Reardon could have been a severe setback for Mr. Zindel, so great was the promise of his first play. But fortunately for the theatre Miss Reardon not only enjoyed critical acclaim, but was one of the four financially successful shows of the 1970-71 season.

"And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little" deals with the lives of three sisters, schoolteachers, who reside in Staten Island. The sisters all worked in the same school together and lived with their mother. Their father has long ago deserted them, and mother has recently died, but her presence is still very much felt in the Reardon household.

The role of Anna is played by Sandy Dennis, the award winning actress who starred opposite Jason Robards in "A Thousand Clowns," and was the most fascinating tax deduction on Broadway in "Any Wednesday." She received an Oscar for best supporting actress in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," and this year won the Straw Hat Award for best actress in "And Miss Reardon Drinks a Little." In films Miss Dennis has also appeared in "The Out of Towners" and "Thank You All Very Much."

Also starring in this show with Sandy Dennis is Barbara Baxley, who has appeared on Broadway in "Plaza Suite" and "She Loves Me." She has played a variety of roles in the American theatre since her Broadway debut in the Tallulah Bankhead-Donald Cook revival "Private Lives."

Performances at the Playhouse are Monday through Friday nights at 8:30, a matinee on Thursday at 2:45 p.m., and two shows on Saturday at 6:00 and 9:30 p.m.

For reservations call the box office.

Appearing Tonight at Woodstock

CASSE CULVER will appear as one of three soloists at the rock concert this evening at Woodstock Playhouse, along with "Orleans," a well-balanced hard rock group comprised of John Hall, guitarist and vocalist; Wells Kelly, drums; and Larry Hoppen, bass. Other performers include Andy Robinson and Tim Moore. Curtain is at 8:30. Detailed information and reservations may be obtained by contacting the Playhouse.

Meetings Please Former Envoy

NEW PALTZ

Dr. Channing Liem, former South Korean ambassador to the United Nations and currently professor of political science at the State University College at New Paltz, has praised the heads of the North Korean and South Korean governments for reported meetings that could lead toward reunification of the two countries.

Dr. Liem made public the text of a telegram he sent to both Presidents Chung Hee Park of South Korea and Premier Kim Il-Sung of North Korea.

"As one who has struggled for independent, democratic Korea for 40 years," he said, "I hail the historic step you took toward reunification of our fatherland. The whole world as well as Koreans are heartened as it means realization of a quarter century's dream of unification, freedom, and prosperity for Koreans, and a long step toward peace in Asia for war-weary peoples everywhere. I join all patriotic Koreans in pledging my support."

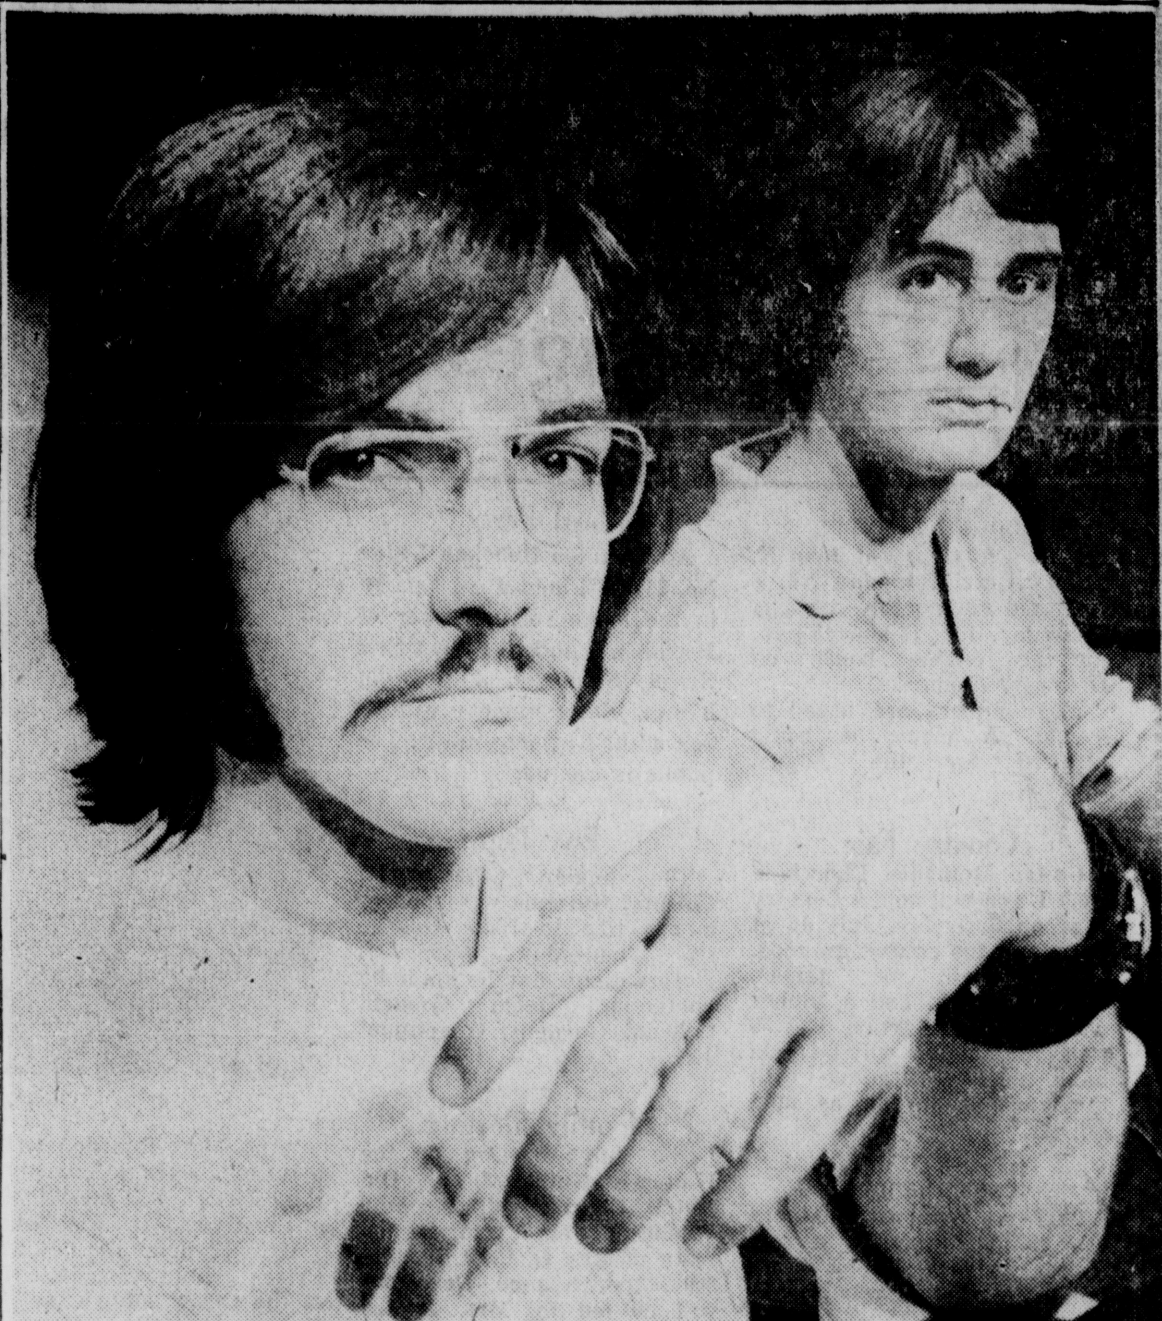

Dr. Liem revealed that he had received information from confidential sources that secret conferences had been held between the leaders of the two countries and specifically that Lee Hurak, head of the South Korean Central Intelligence Agency, had been in the North Korean capital of Pyongyang in May.

Dr. Liem quoted an article by Hurak in the July issue of the "Voice of the Korean People," a bilingual monthly news letter, which hinted that secret high level conferences had been held and expressed hope that the reports were true.

Dr. Liem expressed the hope that the relaxation of tension would not be confined to relations of the two governments with each other but would be extended to the people of both countries.

"Koreans cherish their personal as well as national freedom," he said. "They will support any government which works for the reunification of their country and the freedom and prosperity of the people."

LITTLE MURDERS — Paul Murphy (L), as Kenny, and Tom Aposporos, as Alfred, appear in Little Murders, opening Wednesday, July 12, and running through July 15, at the State University College at New Paltz McKenna Theatre. The Jules Feiffer show begins the New Paltz Department of Theatre Arts' summer season, and will be directed by Clifford Olson. Tickets are available from the McKenna Theatre Box Office from 11 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. daily. Curtain time will be 8:30 p. m.

Continuous compounding — higher annual yields on your savings.

Heritage Savings Bank compounds interest continuously on all savings accounts. This method, made possible by federal regulations, allows depositors more earnings per year, if interest is left to accumulate in the account.

The rates are the same and the highest allowed by law. The change is the continuous compounding of interest every second of every day of the year. At Heritage Savings Bank, your effective annual yield is now greater than ever before.

6.27% effective annual yield on 6% a year Certificates of Deposit

5.20% effective annual yield on 5% Regular Savings Accounts and Day of Deposit to Day of Withdrawal Accounts

Other term accounts at Heritage Savings Bank also yield higher annual growth through continuous compounding: 6% on 5-3/4% a year certificates of deposit and 5.46% on 5-1/4% a year certificates of deposit. All term accounts are guaranteed, with interest paid quarterly, on minimum deposits of $1000.

If you want to know more about continuous compounding call or stop in at one of our offices. We'll be happy to show you how Heritage Savings Bank continues providing for your future.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES — Five Democratic candidates in the Nov. 7 election made appearances at the Ulster County Democratic Committee annual dinner dance held Saturday at the Gov. Clinton Hotel. (L) Sears Hunter, candidate for State Senate in the new 40th Senatorial District; John Burns III, candidate for Congress in the new 25th Congress-

Hinchey Scores Two Vetoes By Rockefeller

SAUGERTIES Maurice D. Hinchey Jr., Democratic-Liberal candidate for the state assembly in Ulster's new 101st District scored Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller for his veto of two measures designed to curb abuses in the present legislative pension system.

"The vetoed bills would have prohibited anyone in state employment from retiring and then getting a job with another governmental agency and drawing a higher combination salary and pension than his final average salary, and prohibited anyone entering state service after July 1 from drawing both the pension and his pay," he stated.

"These weakened reforms were a political maneuver, passed in the legislature only after it was learned that a study commission on legislative pensions was going to recommend that the legislative pension system be completely abandoned because of its high cost and unfairness," Hinchey said. He continued: "A package of 11 bills that would have completely reformed the pension system were defeated by Assemblyman H. Clark Bell and the Republican dominated legislature on the pretense that there were technically deficient."

Dow Announces Staff Appointment

NEWBURGH Rep. John G. Dow has announced the appointment of Howard Fisch as district representative to take the place of Barney Fallon, who moves to the position of campaign coordinator.

Fisch, 48, worked on Dow's 1964, 1966, and 1968 congressional campaigns. He has requested a leave from his job as social studies teacher in a New York City junior high.

"The governor's veto of even these two weakened reforms shows that the legislative pension system is among the most sacred of sacred cows in the Rockefeller administration. The programs are too useful for paying off political debts and patronage."

"The legislative pension program should be recognized for what it is, an unprincipled raid on the public treasury for the benefit of a handful of men who have the power to legislate what they want for themselves. The legislative pension plan should be closed, thereby relieving the taxpayer of an unjust burden amounting to $3.8 million," Hinchey concluded.

Democratic Guest Speaker Urges Strong Court Reform

By LYNN MULVANEY KINGSTON

For the second time within a week, a Court of Appeals candidate speaking in Kingston, has strongly urged court reform.

Justice Lawrence H. Cooke of Monticello, Democratic candidate for the New York State Court of Appeals, told the 300 persons attending the Ulster County Democratic Party dinner-dance Saturday night, "If we can send a man to the moon, we certainly can give man a speedy trial."

Justice Cooke deplored the lack of uniformity in prison sentences especially the disparity found in sentences of life felony offenders. As an example, he cited the cases of two men, each with no previous record, who allegedly committed the same crime. One man received a 117-day sentence, the other received 20 years.

Justice Cooke called for modification and/or review of felony sentences by the state court. Democratic County Chairman James T. McCardle served as master of ceremonies at the champagne-smorgasbord affair at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

Maurice D. Hinchey Jr., Democratic candidate for the Assembly in the new 101st District, suggested that the Democrats have the opportunity to choose whether they want to continue the present policies perpetrated in Albany and in the country. Or, continue the things done under the administration of John F. Kennedy and return the country once again to the hands of the people.

John Burns III, Democratic candidate for Congress in the new 25th District, attacked the present administration on a number of issues including the environment, unemployment and the economy.

Brief addresses were also given by Sears Hunter, Democratic candidate for the State Senate in the 40th Senatorial District and Philip Magarella, Democratic candidate for the Assembly from the new 99th District.

Speaking of the coming campaigns, McCardle urged fellow workers to "a sense of purpose, of belonging, of team spirit."

"The rewards are not that fantastic," he said. "But, there are rewards. Sometimes it is only the feeling that you have participated in the two-party system. They (the rewards) can be greater; together we can win in Ulster County."

Ericka Hinchey was dinner chairman with McCardle, Joseph Epstein and Viola Noonan on the committee.

Thomas Clausi was journal committee chairman assisted by Epstein, Florence Klein, Viola Noonan and Barbara DeStefano.

The ticket committee included Peggy Johnson, Florence Crosby and Stanley Petro Jr.

Kaye Quick was in charge of publicity. Ericka Hinchey and Phyllis Bunch were in charge of decorations; Mary Lou McCardle and Barbara DeStefano were hostesses, Lannie Devine was in charge of boosters and Gene Perry, in charge of prizes.

6.27% is here and Saugerties has it!

But that's only natural. Saugerties Savings has been serving the community for over a century. We share more with our patrons than a business venture does with its customers. The bond is in our name: Saugerties. Your home is our home. And it shows.

That's why we've become #1 in Ulster County.

It is because of this relationship that we begin, as of July 1, to pay the increased annual yield shown in the table to the right. That applies to all of our savings accounts — old and new. So all our depositors benefit from this latest innovation — day after day.

On top of our non-stop compounding, credited quarterly, this means more in the bank for you and more friends for us.

LEGAL NOTICES
tion of the following bond resolution:
BOND RESOLUTION
DATED APRIL 26, 1972
A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF A NEW FIRE TRUCK, INCLUDING NECESSARY EQUIPMENT AT A TOTAL ESTIMATED COST OF NOT EXCEEDING $10,000.00, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF NOT EXCEEDING $10,000.00 SERIAL BONDS OF THE ESOPUS FIRE DISTRICT IN THE TOWN OF ESOPUS, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK, TO PAY THE COST THEREOF.

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Fire Commissioners of the Esopus Fire District in the Town of Esopus, Ulster County, New York, as follows:
Section 1. The acquisition of a new fire truck, including fire-fighting equipment is hereby authorized at a total estimated cost of not to exceed $10,000.00.

Section 2. The plan of financing such object or purpose is by the issuance of not exceeding $10,000.00 serial bonds of said Fire District, which are hereby authorized, pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, to be payable from amounts which shall annually be levied on all taxable real property in the Fire District, and the faith and credit of said Esopus Fire District in the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that subdivision 27 of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law applies to such object or purpose, and that the period of probable usefulness thereof is ten years.
Section 4. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipated notes in anticipation of the issuance and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the Fire District Treasurer, the chief fiscal officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, as may be prescribed by said Fire District Treasurer, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 5. The validity of such bonds may be contested only if:
1. Such bonds are authorized for an object or purpose for which said Fire District is not authorized to expend money, or
2. The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or
3. Such bonds are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 6. This resolution shall not take effect unless approved by the qualified voters of said Fire District.

Bostic's Winning Margin...A Big 18 Strokes

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

THE BOSTIC SWING—Harvey Bostic, the runaway winner of the 1972 Herdegen Memorial Golf Tournament, displays his winning form on the sixth tee at Rondout Pool, Golf, and Tennis Association in Accord Sunday, as a large gallery looks on. Immediately to the rear of Bostic is veteran Bill Van Aken. (Freeman photo by Powell.)

Harvey Bostic didn't disappoint the large gallery in the final round of the 1972 Ulster County Amateur golf championship. Sunday at the scenic Rondout Pool, Golf and Tennis Association course.

Although he was playing the challenging 6,430-yard, nine-hole layout for the first time, the long hitting Wiltwyck Country Club veteran managed an easy 2-over-par 72 and a 72-hole total of 281 that gave a record-shattering 18-stroke margin over runner-up over fast-finishing Bill Van Aken.

Van Aken, of course, set the old mark of 15-plus back in 1958 when he fired the all-time Herdegen tournament low score of 275. Bostic didn't challenge that standard Sunday, but his 281 tied his own third all-time low set in 1965 when he won the first of his four county titles.

The one-under-par 281 gave Bostic the distinction of becoming only the second player to capture back-to-back titles in the 22-year history of the tournament. Leon Randall, an 8-time winner, is the only other player to score repeats in the Herdegen, in 1959-60 and 1966-67.

This was more than just another victory for the Wiltwyck ace whose 5-under-par 67 at rain-soaked Wiltwyck

Country Club Saturday is considered by area golf observers one of the finest rounds in county golf history. It established Bostic's pre-eminence among Ulster County amateurs and indicated he is only golfer to reach No. 2 in at the peak of his long and brilliant career.

Since his first victory in 1965, Bostic has captured four titles—three in the last four years—finished second twice, third and fourth once each. Only Leon Randall, who missed this year's tournament, can challenge that record.

Bill Van Aken recouped enormous prestige with his second place 299. Tied for third place with 226 after 54 holes, the three-time champion who hasn't won since 1958, fired a sparkling 39-34-73 to move into second place past Bill Odeneal, the New Paltz veteran, who closed with 37-37-74 and an even 300.

Joe Bostic, Harvey's younger brother, fired 79 to take fourth place with 305. Frank Muller of Ellenville, in second place 15 strokes behind Harvey Bostic, going into the final round, soared to an 82 and settled for 306 and fifth place.

John Buoymaster, the collegian, opened with par 35 and closed in 40-75 to finish sixth at 309.

Harold Van Aken claimed seventh place with 81-311 and Rick Barthel was eighth at 78-312. Dennis Beaver and Bill Kaufman of Sawyerkill and Charles Stauffer finished in a tie at 313. J. Michael Bruhn of Rondout was all alone at 314 and two Wiltwyck players—Terry Allred and George Cosenza tied with 317.

Rounding out the the exempt list for 1973 were another trio of Wiltwyck shooters—Werner Kolln, Randy Siegel and Brian Smith, with 319s.

CHIP SHOTS: Bill Van Aken's fine comeback elicited widespread praise from the gallery. Rondout is a somewhat unique course in that it has no par-5 holes. Its par 35 is made up of eight par-4s and one one-par-three. It's a beautiful, demanding layout with some excellent par-4 holes and the reaction from the entire field could be summed up in one word—terrific. Harvey Bostic had two birdies on his card—one of the 4th hole, the second on the very rugged par 4, 385-yard, uphill opening hole. . . . Toughest hole on the course had to be the downhill 2nd, a par-4, 425-yard monster that played as a par-5 most of the day. Only 10 pars were recorded there. John Buoymaster carded one of the two birdies there his first time around, then triple-bogeyed it. Werner Kolln chipped in for a birdie-3. Frank Muller, who is hitting the ball a ton, was the only golfer to reach No. 2 in 2—and that was all day long!

Harvey Bostic and Charlie Stauffer were the only players to birdie the No. 1 hole. . . . One of the fine individual efforts of the day was Terry Allred's drive-4-iron and 12-foot putt for a birdie-3 on the 370-yard, uphill finishing hole—the only birdie there all day.

Bostic's next victory will move him past George Hughes of Twaalfskill, who shares the runner-up spot with Harvey with four Herdegen titles.

Station WKNY did a fine job of radio coverage with its four-man team of General Manager Joe Shuler, Big John Mazzucca, Dan Reinhardt and Rich Murphy, the man on the move. Shuler also presented Bostic with the first WKNY Trophy.

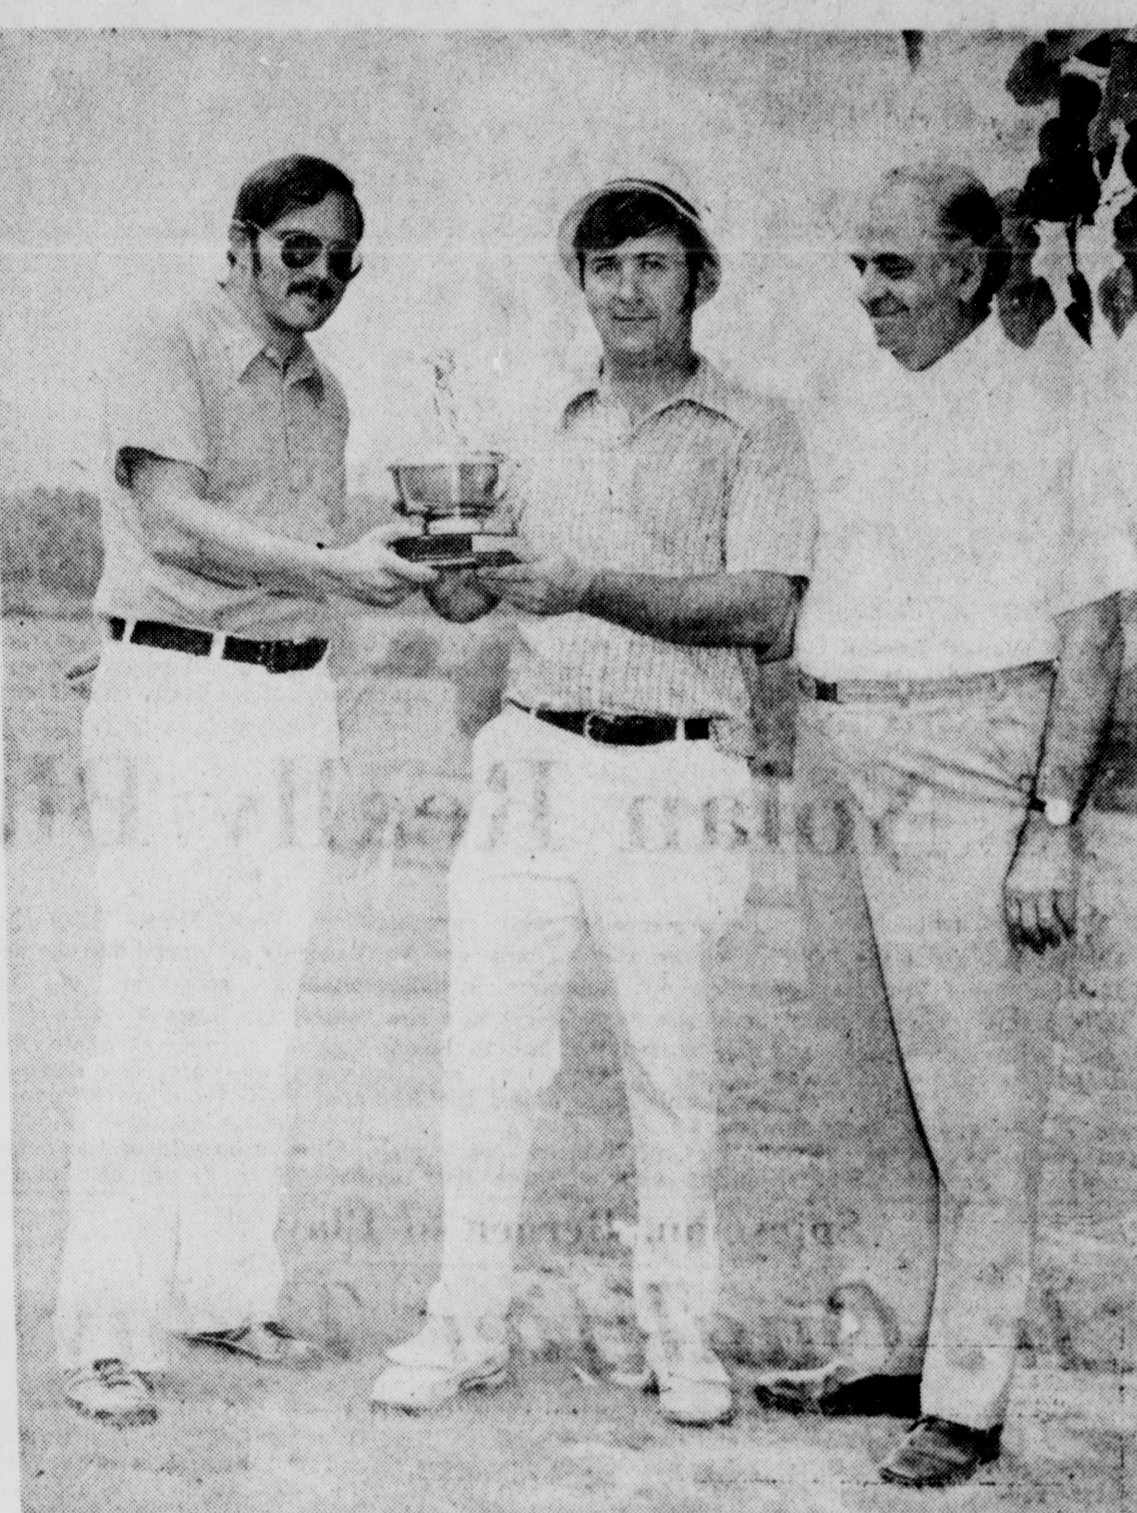

The Rondout club treated the Herdegen finals as a real "happening." The turnout was the largest in recent years, Club president Bob Rosenkrantz, tournament chairman Mike Bruhn, pro Walter Thiel and Bobby Greene (in charge of parking and marshals) combined to stage a standout tournament. Rondout got some tremendous exposure via the Herdegen, something it richly deserves.

Smith, Nastase Put Men in Spotlight

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — The excitement at Wimbledon '72 belonged to the women until two footsoldiers stole the show with one of the most exciting men's finals in the last 40 years.

In a 2 hour 40 minute center court thriller Sunday, top seeded Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., beat Romanian touch artist Ilie Nastase, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Oldtimers at the club who've seen all the finals back to the 1930s, said the match was the best since Australia's Jack Crawford beat Ellsworth Vines of America, 6-4 in the fifth, to win in 1933.

Certainly the capacity crowd of 15,000 fans, who hung on every shot, was satisfied with the feast of strokes and fighting tennis served up by the finalists. It more than made up for the disappointment of Saturday's washout which caused the finals to be postponed 24 hours for only the fourth time in the 86-year history of the tournament.

Smith, who has won a host of admirers for his court manners and charm off it, was perfectly frank afterwards when he said: "Eighty per cent guts and luck got me through," by way of tribute to Nastase, who made the strokes which had the crowd on the edge of their seats.

Guts and a refusal to quit finally got Smith home and helped give the U.S. its first double victory since 1955 when Tony Trabert and Louise Brough were successful. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., won her fourth ladies title on Friday.

Because the match was being played on army time, Smith was unable to keep the $13,000 top prize, but at no time did he play as though money was a consideration.

Before the final he said: "Winning Wimbledon means more to me than money." He proved that when he saved three break points in the vital fifth game of the deciding set. He came from 0-40 to break service in the 12th game to clinch the set and match.

Nastase, who had hit wonderful passing shots on either wing, made impossible looking returns and served well, played a tired shot when trying to save the fourth match point against him—a backhand volley into the net going for the line.

For Nastase there was a consolation check of $7,800 and a share of the $1,300 dollars for winning the mixed doubles with Rosie Casals of San Francisco. Mrs. King, meanwhile, shared the doubles title for the eighth time when she partnered Holland's Betty Stove to a 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 win over Francoise Durr of France and Australia's Judy Dalton. The winners shared $1,560.

The girls were upset at the way the prize money was distributed. They argued it was theirs, not the men, who had helped keep interest alive during the 12 days and they should have received a bigger proportion of the 130,858 dollar cake. Mrs. King said at Saturday's Wimbledon Ball she was not sure she would return to defend her title. "There is nothing left for me to achieve in tennis, although I still love playing the game," she said.

The 28-year-old champion, the leading player on the women's pro circuit in America, has often expressed her disapproval of the Wimbledon payout.

The 32 male contract professionals apparently were not missed. The attendance of 298,569 was only slightly down from last year, but with a slight increase in the price of tickets the club took in $850,000.

Smith, who'll be on Davis Cup Duty in Chile at the weekend, flew to Washington today to report to his army base for 24 hours before rejoining his teammates in New York Wednesday evening for the fight to Santiago.

His next big assignment will be defense of his U.S. Open Title at Forest Hills when the WCT regulars will be in the draw.

Brewer Wins Canadian Open Gay Cracks a Smile

FORT ERIE, Ont. (UPI) — Gay Brewer seldom smiles. But he did Sunday, and the reason for the grin was simple. He had just won $30,000.

The 40-year-old Brewer withstood pressure from Sam Adams and Dave Hill to capture the 1972 Canadian Open Golf Classic title at the Cherry Hill Club.

The 1967 Masters winner finished at 275, nine under on the par 71 course. He didn't have much breathing room, though, as Hill and the left-handed Adams came in at 276.

Hill and Adams had birdies on the par 5, 18th hole and the pressure was on the grey-haired Brewer. He responded by sinking a 30-foot chip shot out of the rough of the 15th hole for par.

He then calmly birdied the 16th and 17th holes and shot the par on the 18th.

"When you're destined to win you're just going to win," Brewer said as he finally cracked a smile. He said he ran into some tough going at the start of the final round "but then things started going all right."

Brewer shot rounds of 67, 70, 68, and 70 for the $30,000 top prize. Hill and Adams each collected $13,875. Phil Rodgers finished third at 277 with Lou Graham in fourth at 278.

Canadian George Knudson and Chi Chi Rodriguez tied at 279.

Colorful Lee Trevino, the defending Canadian Open Champion, came in with a final round of 70 and finished two under par at 282.

It was the 11th tournament title for the veteran Brewer, who joined the tour in 1956. The first place finish automatically qualified him for the upcoming World Series of Golf and boosted his money winnings for the year to $56,596.

"This is a fantastic course," Brewer said of the Cherry Hill layout. "It's too bad we don't get to play on more courses like this."

Brewer said he played a practice round Thursday with Canadian Amateur Nick Westlock and credited a notebook of tips which belonged to Westlock for helping his putting game.

"This book helped my putting game quite a bit," the new champion said. "I've had trouble putting for a long time now and the book helped me straighten out my back and things like that."

A new record for attendance at the Canadian Open was set Sunday when 18,100 spectators pushed the total for the week to 83,400. The old record of 66,000 was set in Montreal last year.

Kathy Rallies From Bad Start

HORSHAM, Pa. (UPI) — Kathy Ahern doesn't let a bad start get her down.

That was evident Sunday when the pretty, 23-year-old Denton, Tex., golfer fired a six-under-par 67 to win the third annual George Washington Ladies Golf Classic by one stroke. Her 54 hole total was 213 and the winner's share was $4,500.

But in Friday's first round, Miss Ahern hit a 78 and landed in a tie for 49th place. She had double bogeys on the eighth and ninth holes.

"I wasn't really discouraged," she said. "I had played well and last week in the U.S. Women's Open I had a triple bogey and double bogey on successive holes in the second round."

She finished in a three-way tie for second at the Open.

In the second round Saturday, Kathy shot a 68 to move past 42 opponents and place in a tie for eighth.

Miss Ahern one-putted four times in the final round of play, and missed only two fairways. She reached every green in regulation except the ninth.

On the professional tour this year, she has won $41,000. Sandra Haynie shot a one-under-par 72 for second place to collect $3,400. — as she finished one stroke back at 214.

She almost tied Miss Ahern at the 18th, when her chip shot rimmed the cup, but wouldn't fall in.

Miss Palmer shot 73 Sunday to finish third with 215. Her share was $2,590.

Gerda Boykin shot a final 73 for a total of 216 to win $2,140.

Betsy Cullen, who held the lead in the opening round, and Jo Ann Prentice, who was tied for the lead the second day, finished in a tie for fifth place with Kathy Cornelius at 217.

They each won $1,427. Jane Blalock, the defending champion, faltered in the final round with a 76 and finished at 221. She won $410 but cannot collect the money until a U.S. District Court case allowing her to play is determined.

Playbook Piracy Foiled

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gerald Gallinhouse said a federal grand jury here is to receive testimony today concerning an alleged attempt to sell pro football secrets to the New Orleans Saints.

Karl Sweetan, 29, former quarterback for the Saints and the Los Angeles Rams, and his cousin, Wayne Boswell, 31, both of Dallas, Tex., were released on $5,000 bonds Saturday on charges involving an allegedly stolen Rams' playbook.

Both were charged with interstate transportation of stolen property and fraud by wire.

They were arrested Friday after Saints coach J. D. Roberts notified federal authorities that he had been contacted about a proposed playbook sale offer. Sweetan's attorney said: "There has been a very large misunderstanding and it will be resolved to everyone's satisfaction. I do not believe it is wise to discuss any playbook."

Sweetan who also played in the National Football League as a quarterback for the Detroit Lions before joining the Saints and then the Rams, more recently played with Edmonton of the Canadian League and was released recently.

Bucs' Problems Are Gone

By UPI

The Pittsburgh Pirates appear to have solved whatever problems they might have had but they remain a riddle for Denny McLain.

The Pirates routed McLain with an early home run barrage Sunday and went on to defeat the Atlanta Braves, 7-4.

Willie Stargell led off the second inning with his 17th homer of the season and Bob Robertson hit a two-run homer that same inning.

When Al Oliver hit a three-run homer in the third, the pirates had a 6-0 lead and that was it for McLain, who made his Atlanta debut last Tuesday in a 3-3 tie with Chicago.

"I don't think there is any doubt that the Pirates are the best team in the major leagues," Atlanta manager Luman Harris said after Pittsburgh took the just-ended series with the Braves, three games to one.

"The only reason they haven't run off and left the other teams in their division is because they got off to a slow start," Harris continued. "But whatever their problems were earlier, they sure don't seem to have any problems now."

The Pirates, division-leaders in the National League East, handed McLain his first National League defeat. McLain was obtained by the Braves from the Oakland Athletics' Birmingham farm club in the Southern League two weeks ago.

McLain was shelled for six earned runs and five hits in the 2-13 innings he worked but Harris isn't about to give up on the colorful right-hander yet.

"I'm not ready to give up on Denny McLain," said Harris. "It's no disgrace to have Pittsburgh knock your head off. I thought he threw some pretty good pitches — although I must admit, he also threw some bad ones too. I'll try him as a starter again."

Hank Aaron slammed his 657th career homer and a run-scoring double for the Braves.

In other National League action, Los Angeles blanked New York, 2-0. Chicago swept a doubleheader from Cincinnati, 5-0 and 10-5. Houston ripped St. Louis, 12-6. San Francisco defeated Montreal, 5-1, and San Diego edged Philadelphia, 5-4.

Carmen Fanzone drove in five runs with a double and a home run and Tommy Davis added three more with a pair of singles as the Cubs won the second game of a doubleheader with Cincinnati after Ferguson Jenkins pitched a shutout in the opener.

Claude Osteen pitched a six-hit shutout as the Dodgers defeated New York. Lee Lacey, Los Angeles' rookie second baseman, led the Dodger attack against Tom Seaver with three hits, scoring one run and driving in another run.

Three St. Louis errors in the last three innings opened the door to five unearned runs and enabled Houston to defeat the Cardinals.

Catcher Ted Simmons' throwing error in the seventh enabled pinch-runner Jimmy Stewart to score the eventual winning run and the Astros pushed across four more unearned runs in the eighth along with Johnny Edwards' leadoff homer to break open a close game.

Dave Kingman's three-run homer in the fifth inning off loser Carl Morton, carried the Giants to victory over Montreal. Bobby Bonds hit his 12th homer off Morton to lead off the game.

The Padres scored three unearned runs in the third inning and Clarence Gaston drove in single runs in the fifth and seventh as San Diego defeated Philadelphia.

"Ryan's recent performances are what we thought he was capable of doing when we made the trade for him," said Angels General Manager Harry Dalton, who sent Jim Fregosi to the Mets last winter for Ryan and three other players. "We knew he had a great arm and a great fastball and curve."

While Ryan has boosted his record to 11-5, Blue last year's sensation with Oakland, is struggling along at 2-5.

Mickey Lolich became the first 14-game winner in the major leagues as Detroit beat the White Sox, 4-2, in the second game of a doubleheader after Chicago had taken the opener, 5-4. The split enabled the Tigers to move into a first place tie in the East Division with the Baltimore Orioles, who dropped their fourth straight game to the Texas Royals, 3-2, in 10 innings.

Elsewhere, the Kansas City Royals swept a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians, 6-4 and 8-5. The Oakland Athletics beat the Milwaukee Brewers, 3-1, and the New York Yankees beat the Minnesota Twins, 9-6.

California scored all three of its runs in the fourth inning off Sonny Siebert. Vada Pinson, Bob Oliver, Ken McMullen and Leo Cardenas each singled and Boston threw in an error.

John Odom retired 22 Milwaukee batters in order between the second and ninth innings, but still needed ninth-inning relief from Rollie Fingers to gain his seventh victory. Joe Rudi doubled home two runs for Oakland and Dave Duncan delivered the other with his third homer in three days.

Rich Reese tied a major league record with the third pinch-hit grand slam homer of his career, but it wasn't enough for Minnesota as the Yankees had erupted for five runs in the first two innings and picked up three more in the seventh. Sparky Lyle gained his 19th save for New York.

HE'S THE MAN—To the delight of 36,000 plus fans, St. Louis Cardinals' Hall of Famer Stan Musial, with his hat in his hand, races down the third base line for home after hitting a home run in the Cards-Yankees Old Timers Game Sunday. The game was played before the Houston St. Louis National League contest and won by the Yankees oldies', 4-2. Third base coach Terry Moore (8) watches The Man head for home. (UPI)

Is Nolan Really Blue-ish?

By UPI

All that talk about the "Old" Vida Blue being lost may be a little premature. He's simply moved down the pike and changed his name to Nolan Ryan.

That would appear to be the case, at least, after Ryan turned in another Blue-ish performance Sunday evening when he allowed only one hit, struck out 16 batters, including a league record eight in a row, and retired the last 26 Boston hitters in succession as the California Angels beat the Red Sox, 3-0.

An inconsistent performer during his earlier career with

New York Mets, Ryan has suddenly developed into the new pitching sensation of the American League with five straight complete game victories, two consecutive shutouts, and 16-strikeout performances in two of his last three games.

Ryan, who said he threw fast balls 70 to 80 per cent of the time, opened the game at Anaheim by walking Tommy Harper on four pitches. He then struck out Doug Griffin before Carl Yastrzemski singled to right. Ryan proceeded to strike out the next eight men to set an American League record, whiffing the side in the second inning on nine pitches.

"Ryan's recent performances are what we thought he was capable of doing when we made the trade for him," said Angels General Manager Harry Dalton, who sent Jim Fregosi to the Mets last winter for Ryan and three other players. "We knew he had a great arm and a great fastball and curve."

While Ryan has boosted his record to 11-5, Blue last year's sensation with Oakland, is struggling along at 2-5.

Spiesman, Berger to Play

Jr. Qualifier Today

Randy Spiesman and Jon Berger, two young Ulster County golfers, will try for places in the New York Golf Association's Junior Boys Amateur Championship at the Southern Dutchess Golf Club here today.

Three Mid-Hudson area spots are open and a field of 14 juniors will vie for the positions. The junior championships is set for the Moon Brook Country Club in Jamestown from August 8-10.

Other entrants in the field include Charles Snyder and Peter R. Hill, both members of the Red Hook Country Club. Spiesman, playing out of Wiltwyck Country Club, was a member of Kingston High School's DCSL championship squad for 1971 and recently competed in the state men's amateur qualifying.

Berger helped Ellenville High School to a second place finish in the UCL and was the league's medalist in the Section IX tournament. He is playing to a nine out of the Nevele Country Club.

Harry Montevideo of the Whipoorwill Golf Club and Mt. Kisco's John Whitten make up the leadoff threesome with Berger. Following will be Snyder, Leslie "Chip" Roe and Greg Hurd, Roe, one of the top young golfers in the area, carries a one handicap at Dutchess Golf and Country Club and will be the favorite here. Hurd, another Whipoorwill shooter, rates a five handicap.

Spiesman heads the third group with Robert P. Yager of IBM and Lou Brundisi of Mt. Kisco, Kevin Harney of West Point, Craig L. Watson of Wykagyl and Robert Scott of Harlem Valley are next.

Storm King's Michael J. Van Kleeck and Red Hook's Hill complete the field.

In the following match William Brown of Harlem Valley and Timothy L. McGowen of Storm King will contest one vacant place in the tournament.

Beauchamp Out

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Mets announced Sunday that Jim Beauchamp will be placed on the 21-day disabled list and catcher infielder Bill Sudakis will be activated.

Beauchamp reinjured a groin muscle on the right side in Sunday's 2-0 loss to Los Angeles. Sudakis, who was obtained from the Dodgers on waivers March 27, has been on the disabled list all season while recuperating from surgery on his right knee last November.

PARKING: (Q.) I have dates with many girls and I always show them a good time. My problem is that after we go where we are going that night, I want to take the girl parking.

(A.) Yes, parking is dangerous.

There is the first danger that you and the girl might do something that you would be sorry for later.

There is the second and greater danger that somebody out for money or kicks might do something to her or you or both of you or your survivors would be sorry about later.

You will be safer ending up the evening in her den or living room.

BETTING BOY: (Q.) Every month we have a dance. The last two dances I have felt like a race horse or something. You see there is this boy I go with sometimes and I like him very much.

Before the next to the last dance, I saw him with a group of boys. He came over to me and asked me to go with him. I said yes. He went back over to the group of boys and collected some money from them.

I wondered what was happening but said nothing. That night at the dance he walked over to the same boys twice and they gave him money. The second time he did it my girl friend came over and told me they were betting him so much that he would not ask me out or kiss me or something else.

When he came back I asked him if this was true and he said yes. I asked him why he was doing it. He said he would go along with their little game until they were broke. He said he and they had made bets for the dance the month before. I just didn't notice anything going on that night.

I told him if he didn't stop it I would not go with him any more. He promised to stop. But at this month's dance he did the same thing. I love him and he says he loves me, but I need advice. Should I quit going with him? He's 16 and I'm 15.—Hurt in Conn.

(A.) Your friend may be a year older than you, but in his emotional development he is still a child. Look for some other boy who can value you for what you are—not as a gimmick to win bets.

ABC... Trying to Claim Parity

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — ABC-TV, smallest of the major commercial television networks, is trying hard these days to get across the impression that it has finally achieved parity in ratings and quality with CBS-TV and NBC-TV. And, in fact, that's true. The only thing is, however, that it is not the first time this has happened. But it does make a swell case for ABC-TV's relatively new top management team. And that new team is doing and planning things in a big way to drive home the idea that this ABC-TV is for real, and that its executives are not just using it for a stepping stone to other positions such as production jobs in Hollywood.

There have been many things in the past for ABC-TV to boast of. But there's no denying its feeling of solidity is currently emerging that wasn't too noticeable before. And the network's plans for the coming season indicate it is going full steam ahead to build its image. For example, in the works is a production of Eugene O'Neill's monumental autobiographical drama, "Long Day's Journey into Night," which will star Laurence Olivier and Constance Cummings.

In addition, says ABC-TV, Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt will be the subject of a brief series of "dramatic productions" that would constitute ABC-TV's new children's programs for children, something neither of its big competitors is doing.

ABC-TV is also giving veteran newsmen Harry Reasoner a weekly, Saturday night, dinner-time, 30-minute program of his own in which he will employ a magazine format. The name of the series is "The Reasoner Report," and it is scheduled to bow in Feb. 24 at what will be its regular time, 6:30 p.m. EDT.

Finally, ABC-TV is allowing reviews—criticism—of its programs to be published in advance of their showing on the network. ABC-TV used to have an absurd policy of telling critics that advance reviews were all right so long as they were favorable—and of course a lot of critics simply decided that no pre-reviews were the best answer.

At any rate, ABC-TV has shown a great deal more maturity in simply opting for advance reviews regardless of what criticism they include. And this leaves NBC-TV as the only commercial video network that flatly bans pre-reviews. The explanation at NBC-TV is that it wants each program to be a brand-new surprise and premiere for viewers, if you want to buy that explanation.

Most critics simply believe NBC-TV doesn't want to risk bad advance reviews. Officials at that network might well note that CBS-TV and ABC-TV were the hot ratings organizations in the past season, and that NBC-TV, by its own admission, had troubles. All those surprises for viewers didn't do an awful lot of good. And so much for that policy.

10 Slain in North Ireland Gun Battles

BELFAST (UPI)—Irish Republican Army (IRA) gunmen returned to the attack today, their 13-day cease-fire abandoned. Gunbattles spread across Belfast and Londonderry and 10 persons died in the fighting or through "executions."

IRA Provisional wing called off their truce Sunday night, six civilians died in Belfast, including a 14-year-old girl and a Roman Catholic priest shot as he administered last rites to another victim.

men who apparently had been executed. The deaths raised the toll for Northern Ireland's three years of bloodshed to 416. "We are very close to civil war," a spokesman for the Protestant Vanguard Movement said.

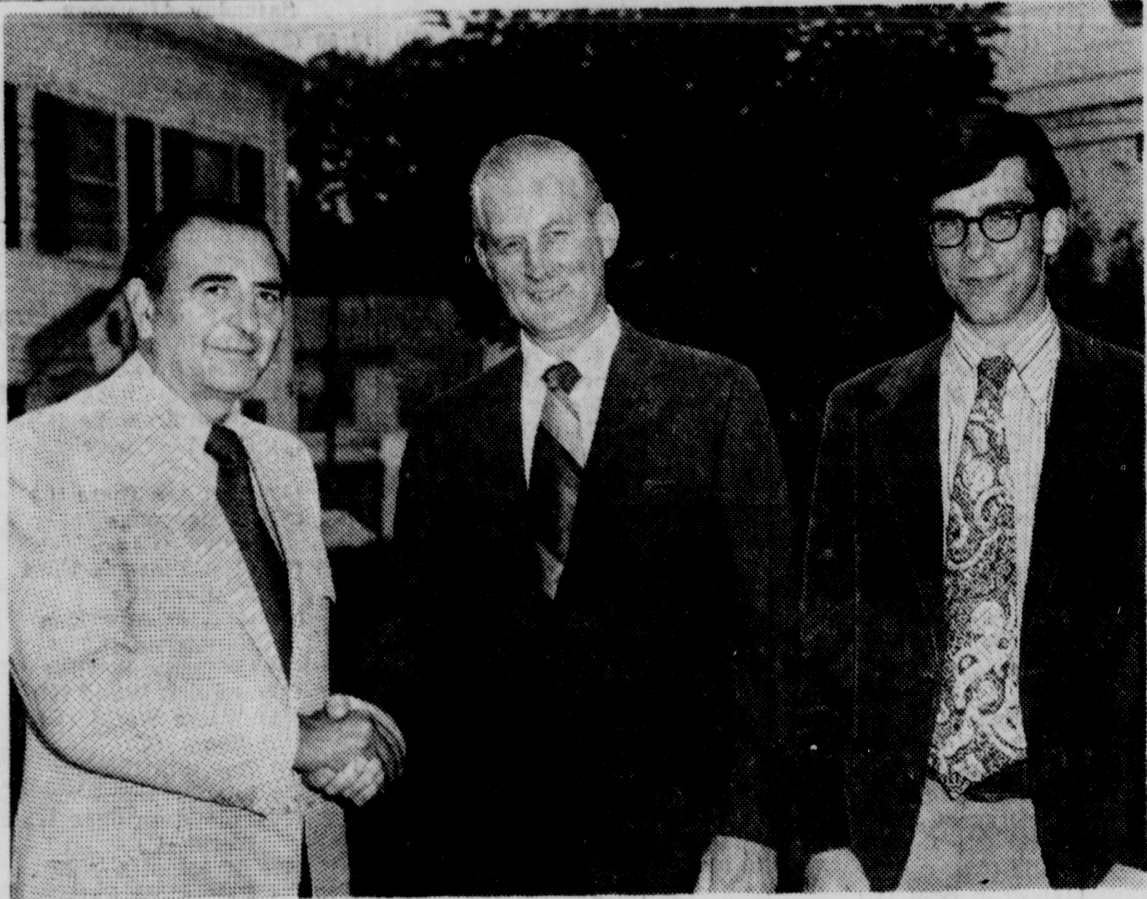

men in the streets of Protestant Catholic snipers, although Protestant gunmen were drawn into the gun duels as well. Some of the bitterest fighting raged in the Catholic Ballymurphy section. An army observation post in a lumber yard was heavily attacked, and it was near there that Father Noel

Fitzpatrick was shot in the neck as he knelt over a dying man to administer the last rites. A Provisional IRA statement from Dublin accused British troops of breaking the cease-fire by firing rubber bullets and nausea gas at almost 2,000

Catholics, including women and children, trying to take over abandoned houses in the Protestant Suffolk housing estate. The confrontation developed into a gunbattle between troops and snipers.

British commanders denied troops had broken the truce and said their men fired only when fired upon. Northern Ireland Secretary William Whitelaw said in a statement: "The incident was clearly set up by the IRA to provide a justification for a resumption of terrorist activity."

Later, a spokesman for Whitelaw said he believed the incidents Sunday could have been resolved by peaceful discussions which were going on, and said Whitelaw was ready to resume talks at any time. The trouble began when the crowd of almost 2,000 Catholics, armed with wooden clubs, iron bars and garbage can lids, tried to march through an army barricade sealing them off from the empty houses on the Protestant housing estate.

Boris and Bobby... Another Problem

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—The Boris Spassky-Bobby Fischer world chess match can begin—Fischer's favorite chair has arrived.

The swivel chair in metal and black leather was flown from New York to Iceland and put on the stage in the Reykjavik chess hall Sunday.

Spassky's Russian advisers arrived shortly after the much talked about chair and studied it suspiciously. Then they left without comment.

Now the Icelandic organizers face a new problem: Where to find a similar chair in Iceland? "It would look better if both Spassky and Fischer had the same chairs," said Gudmundur Thorarinnsson, president of the Icelandic Chess Federation.

dozen different chairs the Icelanders had assembled from Reykjavik's furniture stores the other day, sat down in some of them and then gave his verdict: "Fly in my own chair."

Spassky, the 35-year-old world champion, did not seem to worry much about details of the $250,000 match.

Before leaving for a salmon fishing tour of northern Iceland the defending champion said, "I am not going to argue about chairs, chess boards and sets. I will leave that to Bobby. It makes no difference to me."

After lengthy and dramatic preludes, both Fischer and Spassky appeared ready to start the first of their 24 games Tuesday.

"Bobby is relaxed and ready. We will play Tuesday unless Spassky is ill," said Fred Cramer, vice president of the U.S. Chess Federation.

But the players still have to inspect and approve the facilities in the hall, where the paying $5 each to be on hand Tuesday.

Gudmundur Arnlaugsson deputy referee of the match, spent all day Sunday polishing off the fine details. He tested several chess boards and finally settled for one made in Iceland specially for the match. It has been put together from Icelandic stones.

Okamoto on Trial in Israel

LOD, Israel (AP) — The Japanese terrorist who survived the Tel Aviv airport massacre pleaded guilty at the opening of his trial today, but his lawyer asked for a psychiatric examination, and the three-man military court recessed to consider the request and the plea.

His chief lawyer, Max Kirtzman, said he did not contend Okamoto was now insane, "but he should have an examination to determine if he was sane at the time of the commission of the offense."

Kirtzman said he had no material yet "to convince you of the defendant's mental state," but added, "in the circumstances and in the defendant's behavior since leaving his homeland for a faraway country, with which he had no connection, we see that the facts speak for themselves." Under Israeli law a defendant in a capital case has to "plead innocent. Okamoto is expected to get life imprisonment."

The opening of the trial was delayed 55 minutes by strict security checks. Many of those at the trial stood in line for more than two hours before they could enter the courtroom about four miles southwest of Lod Airport, where the massacre took place.

Wearing a red shirt and dark slacks, the small solemn defendant stood in a waist-high wooden enclosure manacled to two husky policemen as the chief prosecutor, Lt. Col. David Israeli, read the four charges against him.

Asked if he understood, Okamoto replied quietly, "Yes."

Asked how he pleaded to the charges, Okamoto replied: "On the 30th of May 1972 I discharged firearms with two other persons... I forgot their names... I do not know how many people I killed... I have many things I want to say in court..." Then he pleaded guilty.

President Pushing New Washington-Soviet Trade

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon will send his secretary of commerce to Moscow this month to work on "a comprehensive new approach" to U.S.-Soviet trade, following up the unprecedented $750 million grain deal.

He will bring up the old Russian World War II debt. Plans for the trip by Secretary Peter G. Peterson were disclosed this weekend by Henry Kissinger, Nixon's chief foreign policy advisor.

The President wants "a comprehensive new approach to the issue of U.S.-Soviet economic relations," Kissinger told newsmen.

He described the agreement to sell the Russians American grain as "a major step" toward that end. The deal is by far the largest such trade transaction ever between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Peterson's negotiations will focus on settlement of the World War II Lend-Lease debt owned by Russia and credit arrangements, two of the major obstacles to broader trade between the two.

The United States claims the Russians owe about $800 million and the Soviet Union only acknowledges a $300 million debt.

Under the grain deal the Soviet Union will be granted up to $500 million in credit through the commercial credit corporation, the government-backed agency which normally handles commodities transactions, at the regular 6 1/2 per cent interest.

It also marked the first occasion that such credit has been furnished the Russians. Their previous purchases were for cash.

During the first year of the three-year agreement, Russia will buy at least $200 million worth of U.S. crops—their choice of a mix of wheat, corn, sorghum, rye, barley and oats.

Nixon was pleased with the agreement, among other reasons, because it will provide work not only for American farmers but for those involved in shipping it, such as railroad and dock workers, exporters, seamen and shippers, the White House said.

The agreement was announced as Nixon relaxed here at his Oceanside home.

What this seal means to us is important to you.
At first glance, it's only a membership seal. It tells you we belong to the National Automobile Dealers Association, the official organization of dealers who sell and service new cars and trucks.
But it means far more—to us and to you. It means that we subscribe to the N.A.D.A. Code of Business Practices. This code is our pledge to you that we maintain the highest standards of ethical business practices at all times, in all transactions.
You can depend on the dealer who displays the N.A.D.A. seal. What it stands for is never taken lightly, for your sake as well as ours.

N.A.D.A. CODE OF BUSINESS PRACTICES

- To advertise our products honestly, avoiding any claims or statements which could be misleading to the public.
- To price our products fairly, offering a reasonable allowance for used vehicles we take in trade and charging a reasonable amount for new and used vehicles we sell and service.
- To thoroughly inspect and service our new vehicles before delivery, and to follow up with the warranty work necessary for customer satisfaction.
- To conduct our service department operations in a way that will assure quality workmanship and full value received.
- To do everything possible to reflect credit on the automobile industry and enhance our own reputation in the community.
